

Fire! Fire!

Firemen battled an intentional fire at an abandoned house located at Burke and Fourth streets in Long Beach Tuesday night. Neighbors had complained that the house was a health hazard and asked the city to dispose of it. But before the firemen let the house burn to the ground, they used it to test their firefighting equipment. Repeatedly they knocked the blaze down as they practiced different ways to fight a house fire. The lot will now be cleared as part of the city beautification plan.

Angered by mayor's statement

Kidd vacillates over threatened slander suit

by Anita Dinwiddie

Bay St. Louis Commissioner Lucien Kidd said Monday he was having second thoughts about his announced intention to name Mayor Warren Carver in a slander suit following a stormy council meeting last Thursday.

Kidd's threat to sue the mayor was based on an accusation by Carver during the meeting that Kidd and tax commissioner Clarence Ladner had committed an "illegal act" when the two, in his absence, signed a city warrant authorizing Robert Bienville to do an annual audit at a cost of $1,500.

Kidd said Monday he would probably not sue the mayor because of the difficulty of proving malicious intent.

Carver accused the two commissioners Thursday of trying to circumvent him by signing the check for Bienville's work without his knowledge.

Kidd contends Carver was absent from the City Hall when the warrant for Bienville was ready.

Carver said at the Council's first regular meeting March 4 that he was opposed to hiring Bienville, the city bookkeeper, to do the audit.

The mayor said last week he was in town at the time the signing took place, although he was absent from City Hall. Mississippi law requires the mayor plus one commissioner to sign all city warrants but does give the authority to a mayor pro tempore when the mayor is "absent." The law does not spell out whether it means absent from City Hall or absent from the city.

Carver produced a statement from the state, attorney general's office which said that commissioners could only act when the mayor is absent or unable to perform his duties.

"The statement he read from the attorney general doesn't prove anything," said Kidd.

"It said that if the mayor is absent, the mayor pro-tempore should act in his place, which I did. He had let that check sit on his desk for two weeks, and it had to be paid."

Carver said he had been at a ribbon cutting ceremony that morning in Colonial Plaza and that there had been no urgency in signing the check in his absence.

City Attorney Joseph Gex said he did not feel that statement by the attorney general would apply in this case because it was not made clear whether the absence of the mayor meant absence from town or from city hall.

"Our intention from the beginning was to save the city money," said Kidd. "We hired Bob Bienville to audit the books and now we have to pay him for the job he has done."

Supervisors approve grant to GRPC

After approximately 15 minutes of argument between Beat Five Supervisor Jimmy Travirca and Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner Monday, Hancock Supervisors approved unanimously a request by the Gulf Regional Planning Commission for $7,140 for the services of a part-time local planner for Hancock County.

The GRPC request Monday which was supported by the Hancock County Planning Commission followed an outline last week of what services the planner would perform in return for the board's subsidy. Travirca and board president Dolph Keller were invited by the county planning commission to that March 4 meeting.

John Scafide and Michael Haas, who presented the county planning commission resolution to the board for approval, said that GRPC would return $6,000 of the $7,140 immediately to the county so that in effect the county was getting the "benefit of a part-time planner for a little over $1,000."

Ladner and Travirca engaged in approximately 15 minutes of argument about the merits of a local planner after Ladner criticized what he termed "the duplication of all these planning bodies."

Ladner asked Les Newcomb, director of the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District (SMPDD) to address the board and give his own comments about the GRPC proposal.

Newcomb declined to get into "any controversy" but reminded the board that SMPDD had over 13 employees working in Hancock County and had expended over $100,000 in Hancock County last year.

GRPC and SMPDD have competed often in the past for county funds to continue programming. Both rely on appropriations from member counties for funding.

In an attempt to end criticism this year that supervisors favored one planning body over another, the board voted to set aside 5 mills for all county planning without designating how the money would be spent.

"I just feel there is too much duplication among these planning agencies," Ladner said. "As far as I can see this county hasn't received any new federal funding except for revenue sharing that is already given to us."

Ned Boudreaux, director of GRPC, admitted there was some duplication but added that the duplication was mostly in administration.

"But regardless of who does the work," Boudreaux said, "the county has to put up the same matching funds."

The controversy ended abruptly when Travirca's motion to accept the planning commission resolution was seconded by Beat Four Supervisor Bully Zengarlino. The motion was then passed unanimously with Ladner not objecting.

DuPont purchase favors engineer

by David Pierson

The DuPont Company has completed its purchase of 2,200 acres of land north of the Bay of St. Louis for a proposed titanium dioxide plant. DuPont, which is having one of its permits challenged in federal court, paid almost $2.5 million to Lester Earnest, Inc. for a large bulk of the acreage.

Among those listed as principals in Lester Earnest, Inc. are Adrian Duplantier and Waldermar S. Nelson, Inc.

Duplantier, a former New Orleans city councilman and a one-time candidate for Louisiana governor, received $122,462.28 for his share of the land. He is presently serving as a judge with the Civil District Court in New Orleans, Division B. Waldermar S. Nelson, Inc., which received $285,745.32 for its share of the acreage, is the engineering firm DuPont retained to plan the initial site grading and development operations for the proposed plant. At the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission's Dec. 30 public hearing in Gulfport, Waldermar Nelson outlined his company's plans to minimize DuPont's impact on the surrounding area during the construction of the plant.

Lester Earnest, Inc., which received $2,406,142.10 for its acreage, has 18 other principals and held about two-thirds of the 2,200 acres DuPont wanted. DuPont held the option to buy the land from Lester Earnest, Inc. since Sept. 12, 1973.

Other principal shareholders in Lester Earnest, Inc., according to Harrison County land rolls are as follows: Lester E. Kabacoff, Morgan Earnest, Darwin Fenner, Richard C. French, Harry McCall for Alfred Jay Moran, Mrs. Marjorie L. Moran and the Moran Foundation, Moran Industries, Inc., Mrs. Lansing Moran, Hazel Stafford for Alexander M. Stafford and John F. Stafford and Eva A. Stafford, J. K. Byrne, Atwood L. Rice, Jr., Norma J. Bostick, Arthur C. Weid, Henry J. Read, Emily Read, W. B.

Reilly, III, and Emile L. Turner.

Several other landowners in the area also sold their acreage to DuPont in the Feb. 28 land deal.

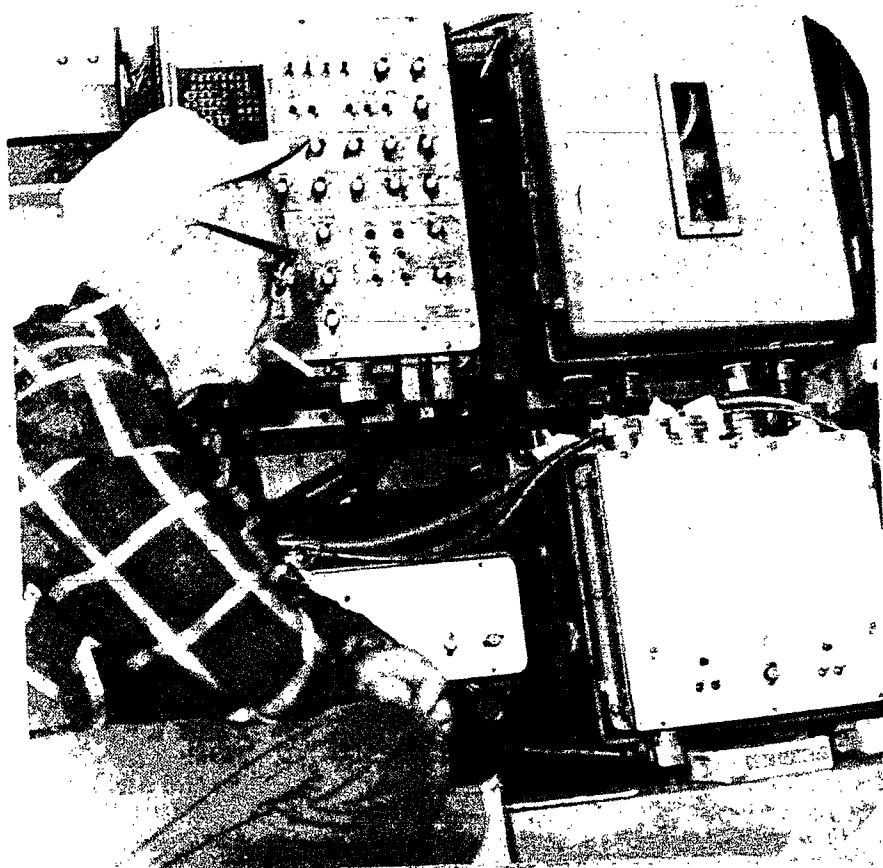

In another matter, Save the Bay, Inc., a group of landowners seeking to block DuPont's locating north of the Bay, filed suit in the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Tuesday, asking the court to review the actions of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and to revoke the waste discharge permit approved by both the EPA and the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission (MAWPCC).

The suit charges that the EPA delegated its own authority to the state agency when it approved the MAWPCC permit and designated the state agency as the final permitting authority on the permit.

Save the Bay filed suit in Harrison County Chancery Court last month seeking a revocation of the MAWPCC permit. Chancellor Frank Alexander set March 24 as the hearing date on that suit and refused to suspend the permit in the interim.

In the federal court suit, Save the Bay reiterated its earlier charges that the MAWPCC "prejudged" the permit application in favor of DuPont. The suit also charges that the state agency is "unfit" to administer the EPA guidelines.

The permit which was approved Feb. 3 grants DuPont the right to discharge more than two million gallons of diluted salt water daily into the Bay of St. Louis. The permit also governs the deep well injection of poisonous wastes.

Seismic recorders

The seismic instrument panel intercepts shock waves from the geophones along the 25 mile long line and records the information on seismic sheets for further study by geologists.

Seismic crews begin exploration in Harrison

Seismographic crews have begun work in north Harrison County on land leased by Alex W. McCoy & Associates in a joint effort with the Saga Petroleum Company of Norway to discover natural gas and oil.

Approximately 425,000 acres of land in eight Southern Mississippi counties and Mobile County in Alabama has been leased for mineral rights in anticipation of possible drilling sites.

A spokesman for the F.M. Burtis Seismograph Service said crews will conduct geologic tests during the next three to four months to determine the feasibility of wells.

The crew has presently staked out a 25 mile long line of geophones near Wiggins, Miss. to record shock waves for study by geologists.

Hydraulic drills are used to place the geophones 100 feet beneath the surface of the ground at intervals of 660 feet.

Shock waves picked up by the geophones are recorded on seismographic equipment located in an instrument van which follows the crew.

Saga and McCoy & Associates announced Feb. 21 that over $22 million would be committed to the search for oil and natural gas in South Mississippi and Mobile County, Alabama.

Ed Seabourn, operations manager for Saga Petroleum U.S., said the Norwegian oil conglomerate's immediate plans were to drill three wells in Mississippi and one in Alabama.

The first well was spudded Feb. 10 in the Grand Bay area of Mobile County.

The McCoy group of lease land extends approximately 100 miles by 50 miles from the Miss.-La. state line to Mobile Bay. The group of leases includes approximately 50,000 to 75,000 acres in Hancock County.

Seabourn said that Saga was unprepared to say at the present where the second well would be drilled.

The wells will primarily be deep wells ranging in depth to 22,000 feet.

Alex McCoy & Associates is a Tulsa based firm of consulting geologists and engineers. Saga Petroleum and Fred Olsen Inc., who represent the largest group of capital investors in the oil exploration, are two of Norway's largest conglomerates.

Member concerns of the Saga parent company, Saga A.S. & Co., represent about 50 percent of Norway's export industry, two-thirds of the country's shipping interests and 10 percent of the world's tanker fleets.

Board delays rehiring, ignores laggardness

by Anita Dinwiddie

The Hancock County School Board conducted only minor business Tuesday morning because of the possibility of a federal restraining order against the present board members. A law suit filed in Biloxi last Monday requests that the board be prohibited from conducting business until new elections are held for all of the school seats in the county.

Board members Monvel Cuevas, Tommy Shaw, Eric Larsen and Johnny Banks were served with summons before the meeting informing them that they would have 20 days to answer the suit which claims that the four members were elected illegally under a state election law that never received federal approval as required under the 1965 Voting Rights Act. The summons, however, did not enjoin the board from conducting business said Board Attorney Joseph Gex.

Gex said that the suit, filed by 12 Hancock County voters, will probably be heard April 9, the same time set for a hearing on the suit against a fifth board member, Oris Ladner, who was prevented from taking his seat by a similar law suit filed in December. Ben Stone, attorney for Ladner, is also the attorney for the Hancock County voters who filed the most recent suit against the other board members.

Both law suits claim that a Hancock County election law passed in 1968 which changed the district elections to countywide elections is void because it never received federal approval as a voting change under the provisions of the 1965 Voting Rights Act. The suit filed Monday asks that new elections be held up until the state election law receives federal approval.

In view of the lawsuit, the board decided Tuesday to postpone decisions on the rehiring of teachers until the next meeting Friday, March 21.

"I do want to reassure the teachers, though, that those who have been recommended by their principals will probably be rehired," said Cuevas.

The board also suspended work on two construction projects for restrooms at Gulfview School and a new cafeteria at Hancock North Central, until some action on the suit is taken.

Other old business that was not taken up at Tuesday's meetings was the matter of the driver's education car which has still not been returned to Turan-Lane Chevrolet. The car was ordered returned when it was charged that Superintendent of Education K. G. McCarty was using it for personal business. Board member Johnny Banks said that McCarty's wife was still driving the car to her teaching job at Gulfview School.

"We are going to take care of that when the time comes," said Cuevas.

Harold Bordages of Waveland has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of State Representative from Hancock County in the August primary.

Speeder apprehended, marijuana confiscated

A 20-year-old white male was arrested Wednesday afternoon for possession of approximately 15 pounds of marijuana valued between $3,000 and $5,000 after being stopped for a traffic violation.

Authorities said Duane E. Kutzer, 20, of 580 N. Second Street, Pensacola, Florida, had been charged with possession with intent to deliver or sell after being stopped for speeding on Interstate-10 at 4:30 p.m.

Mississippi Highway Patrol authorities reported finding a small amount of marijuana in the car and then summoned the Hancock County Sheriff's Office to come in. The trunk of the subject's vehicle subsequently was opened, and 15 one-pound bags of marijuana were found.

Kutzer was also charged with carrying a concealed, stolen .32 automatic weapon.

Arresting officers were Clyde Hester, John Poulson, and Herschel Ladner of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, Ronnie Peterson and Paul Bernard of the Hancock County Sheriff's Office, and state investigator T.P. Naylor.

Bond has been set at $20,000, and a hearing before Judge Lee Klein has been set for March.

McCutchon named outstanding citizen

The Pass Christian Rotary Club named E. Davis McCutchon as the city's outstanding citizen for 1974 during the club's annual award dinner Thursday night. McCutchon is chairman of the Pass Christian Bicentennial Committee.

A five-member secret committee considered 18 nominations chosen for their "major and significant contributions to their fellowman."

Although the winner of the award was a well-kept secret, W. Dayton Robinson, a 1970 recipient of the award, said he felt McCutchon would win the award. After the dinner, Robinson

ALINE PINO
Funeral services for Mrs. Aline Basso Pino, who died Sunday, March 2 at 1:55 p.m. at Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans, were held at 11 a.m. March 4 at Rabenhorst-Funeral Home in Baton Rouge with Rev. Charles Lamb officiating. Burial was in Greenoaks Memorial Park in Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Pino, 54, is a native of Baton Rouge, but has resided in Metairie for the last few years.

She is survived by her husband, C. Elgin Pino, Sr. of Metairie, three sons, Clark Elgin Pino, Jr. of Houston, Jenny Wayne Pino of Baton Rouge and Frank Irving Pino of Metairie, four grandsons and two step granddaughters. Mrs. Pino also had two brothers and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Andrews, Mrs. Thelma Thompson, Melton J. Basso and Clay T. Basso all of Baton Rouge.

Palbearers were Dr. R. S. Crifasi, Robert St. Romain, C. J. Hood, Jr., Lamar Thompson, John D. Odum, Sr. and Dennis M. Pino Jr.

MRS. ANNIE TREDDIN

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Belle Treddin, 50, 203 Tampa Drive, Pearlington, Miss., who died Thursday at Sidel Memorial Hospital, were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Riemann-Fahey Funeral Home Chapel. The Rev. Rasberry, pastor of Pearlington First Baptist Church, and Rev. Kenneth Brown, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, officiated. Interment was in Pearlington Cemetery.

A native of Clay County, Ala., Mrs. Treddin was a member of the Baptist Church, and World War II U.S. Navy veteran. She was president of the Oak Harbor Club; previously worked with the Ansel Community Charity Club and was active in Charles B. Murphy B.

Council confirms itemized gas expenses

by Anita Dinwiddie
Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver succeeded in his efforts to require all city employees to itemize gas expenses Thursday over the objections of Commissioners Lucien Kidd and Clarence Ladner.

The mayor questioned the expense accounts submitted by the commissioners, which averaged 33 miles per day for Commissioner Kidd and 26 miles per day for Commissioner Ladner, and suggested they begin listing their mileage for each trip.

"If the people have enough confidence to elect you," Kidd replied, "you shouldn't have to account for every mile you travel. That is one of the privileges of being an executive."

Kidd and Ladner voted in favor of the motion, however, after amending it to apply to all city employees as well as council members.

In other business the council approved motions to improve both Main and Easterbrook Streets. The repaving of Main Street was approved unanimously, but the

Pearl River offers law enforcement
The Pearl River Junior College Vocation-Technical department is offering a course in police and community relations beginning March 18, from 6-9 p.m. on the Poplarville campus.

The eight week course is designed mainly for law enforcement personnel, but any interested persons may enroll. Louis Fucci, PRC security officer and former Cleveland, Miss. police captain will instruct the course. There is a $5 registration fee for the course.

Elementary School work. She was treasurer of a movement to establish a Pearlington volunteer fire department and was an honorary member of Fort Pike Volunteer Fire Department.

Mrs. Treddin is survived by her husband H. G. (Ted) Treddin, Pearlington.

MRS. MYRTLE VORBUSCH

Mrs. Myrtle Adele Marsh Vorbusch of Waveland, former executive council member of the New Orleans Area Girl Scouts of America, died Friday at 1 a.m. at Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans after a brief illness.

The Rev. Gilbert Oliver, minister of the Main Street Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis officiated at the services which were held Saturday at Sharp-Sonthier Funeral Home in New Orleans. An additional service was held at the Ibert Funeral Home in Franklin, La., Mrs. Vorbusch's original home. Interment was in Franklin cemetery.

Mrs. Vorbusch had been a resident of Waveland since 1972. She worked with the Pink Ladies of Hancock General Hospital and was a member of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. She was a member of Main Street Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis.

In New Orleans she was a member of the Dames of Magna Carta, Louisiana Society Daughters of Colonial Wars and the Founders of the Pontalabana.

Palbearers were Leighton F. Jeffrey, Edward Brennan, John Ryan, Charles Tampa, William Richardson and John Marsh Goff. Honorary palbearers were Daniel F. Jeffrey, Jr., John J. McDonald, Ray Gordon, Ted Robin and Herbert Baron.

Survivors include her husband, Rudolph O. Vorbusch, a daughter, Mrs. Neill P. Jeffrey Jr. of Waveland, and two grandchildren.

Easterbrook project passed over Mayor Carver's objection.

"I just can't see the logic in spending money on Easterbrook Street," said Carver. "Most of the property on the street is vacant and there is no sewer line along the street."

The council also considered nominees for two vacant seats on the Parks and Playgrounds Committee submitted by Carver and Kidd. The council voted 2-1 to appoint Harold Krankey to the committee but delayed action on filling the second seat. Nominees for the position include James McCarthy, Virginia Wagner, and Fred Cabell.

Rehabilitation center plans April opening

The Mississippi Methodist Rehabilitation Center in Jackson has been completed and will be ready for patients in mid-April, said Earl R. Wilson, chairman of the Center board. The $6,800,000 facility will serve severely disabled adults.

The Center, located at 1350 Woodrow Wilson Drive, is co-sponsored by the Mississippi Methodist Conference of the United Methodist Church and the Vocational Rehabilitation division of the State Department of Education. The University Medical Center will cooperate through an educational program.

The facility is planned primarily to serve Vocational Rehabilitation clients, disabled persons of working age, with the long-range aim of placing them in jobs.

The 60-bed center is expected to be one of the largest in the south and one of the most outstanding in the nation from the standpoint of facilities and staff. It is one of a few rehabilitation centers in the nation to employ the "team" approach. This technique combines the medical personnel and those with related skills into a closely coordinated team.

The Center will serve five disease categories including spinal injury, stroke and head injury, fracture-amputee, arthritis and cardiopulmonary (heart-lung).

The first category of patients to be received into the Center will be spinal injury cases, Wilson said.

Health Center receives grant

Dr. Kinsey Stewart, Executive Director of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center said this week the Center has been awarded a $30,000 mini-grant to continue drug consultation and treatment for the people in Region 13's four counties - Harrison, Hancock, Pearl River and Stone.

The Center will use the funds, Stewart said, to serve those who suffer from severe addiction, regular use - semi regular use to occasional experimentation.

Stewart said the present Catacombs will be kept in operation because some young drug users appear to respond to its "store front" appearance more readily than to the more formal atmosphere of the Gulfport facility.

The Drug-Misuse consultation-treatment program is coordinated by Eddie Hodges. Stewart Schelver is

Local guard aids Easter Campaign

The Mississippi National Guard has adopted the Easter Seals Campaign as an official project for all units statewide March 22-23. Locally, 135th Transportation Company will participate in the fund-raising drive at local shopping centers and man telephones in Jackson and Hattiesburg for the national Easter Seals Telethon, announced First Lieutenant Edwin A. Stebbins.

State campaign chairman, Mrs. William Winter, wife of the Lieutenant Governor, visited Bay St. Louis last Thursday along with the Executive Director of the State Easter Seals Society, Lee Dees, to generate interest in the local campaign. While in the city they made announcements over local WPUP radio about the national telethon, hosted by Peter Falk, which will be carried locally on Channel 3 in Jackson and Channel 7 in Hattiesburg March 22. National guardsmen will man the telephones at these two stations to take pledges and make collections.

There will also be vehicles stationed at Our Shopping Center in Waveland and Bay St. Louis Shopping Center to collect donations. The guard plans to host an open house for the benefit of the Easter Seals Society for all local residents Sunday, March 23, at the National Guard Armory in Waveland.

The Mississippi Easter Seal Society is a non-profit volunteer health agency which provides direct services to handicapped children and adults in Mississippi. Approximately 90 percent of all money contributed to the Society remains in Mississippi and is funneled back into the counties where it is raised for direct services to the handicapped. Last year the Society provided services to over 3,800 handicapped children and adults in Mississippi.

Oliver announces for lieutenant governor

Paul H. Oliver, a 39-year-old certified industrial developer from Clinton announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor in the August Democratic Primary at a press conference March 11 at the Sun N Sand Motel in Jackson.

"Mississippi has never had a full time lieutenant governor," Oliver said, "and I feel it's time to elect one. This position has been used by politicians trying to get to the governor's chair, and I believe it could be used much more wisely by someone trained in seeking business and industry for Mississippi."

Oliver said that Mississippi's first priority should be economic development. He said he wanted to place emphasis on generating jobs which pay higher wages and into bringing more tourist dollars into the state.

"We have a tremendous opportunity in Mississippi now to be more selective in who we ask to come in. We need high paying industry that will pay their share of the taxes, and industry that will not pollute our air and water. I know all candidates run on what they will do about getting more industry, but none have had 12 years of 'on the job' training, which I have," Oliver said.

Oliver was born in Hattiesburg, educated in the Senatobia public schools, attended Northwest Junior College and Mississippi College. He attended night classes at the University of Southern Mississippi while working full time for the Illinois Central Railroad from 1957 to 1963. He is a graduate of special industrial development schools at the University of Oklahoma and the American Industrial Development Council, and was designated Mississippi's fourth Certified Industrial Developer in 1971.

From 1963 to 1972, he directed the economic development programs in Marion, Lincoln and Lowndes counties. Mr. Oliver is a certified lay speaker and Sunday School teacher in the Methodist Church. He has served as a scout master and holds the rank of Life in the Boy Scouts. He is an eight year veteran of the Mississippi National Guard, and was chosen "Man of the Year" in his 1971 graduating class at Columbus Air Force Base.

Married to the former Lynette Taylor of Union, the Olivers have four children, Lynn, 17, Valerie, 13, Libby, 12, and Chad, 4.

Diabetic youth camp planned for June

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—The Diabetic Youth Camp of Mississippi for youths ages 7-17 will be held June 15-28 at Camp Ita Kana, five miles north of Wiggins on Highway 13, announced Dr. W.J. Huddleston.

Activities will stress teaching the young diabetics how to take care of themselves.

Physicians, counselors, nutritionists, medical technologists, recreation specialists and allied professionals will provide 24-hour care and instruction, at the camp.

Each camper will receive urine tests at least twice a day and a sugar blood test once a day. Additional tests will be given to individuals determined to need more frequent tests.

"The young campers will benefit by associating with other youngsters who also have diabetes," said Dr. Huddleston. "In this situation, they discover that others have the same, or similar, problems, and they normally adjust, thereby recognizing that they, too, can help handle the daily problems caused by diabetes."

The camp will be open to all Mississippi youths, ages 7-17, and about 60 applicants will be accepted.

Fees are $150 for the two weeks, but if youths are unable to pay, they will not be turned away, Huddleston said.

Various individuals, service and civic organizations have sponsored children's attendance in the past, and contributions and sponsors are again needed, he said.

Contributors should make checks payable to Forrest County General Hospital—Diabetic Youth Camp and mail to the same address. Contributions are tax deductible.

The Forrest General Hospital, the Hattiesburg Kiwanis Club and the University of Southern Mississippi are sponsoring the camp. The USM Department of Medical Technology and the Recreation Department will provide medical technologists and recreation specialists.

In addition to the professional instruction about diabetes, campers will enjoy a full range of recreational activities, including ping pong, arts and crafts, softball, volleyball, horseshoes, swimming, water skiing, boating and others.

Boy Scout Explorers and students from the USM Recreation Department will supervise all recreational activities. Medical technology counselors will provide constant supervision, and a physician will be available at all times.

Applicants should write no later than May 15 to Diabetic Youth Camp, P.O. Box 1691, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39401.

Federation observes National Wildlife Week

Next week, March 16-22, has been designated by the National Wildlife Federation as National Wildlife Week. said Executive Vice President Thomas L. Kimball. The theme of the 38th annual week-long observance is "We Care About Wildlife Habitat".

"This year's theme focuses on the vital relationship between wildlife and its habitat," said Kimball. "All of us who are concerned about the future of wildlife in this country must spread the word that protection of habitat is the key to healthy, abundant wildlife populations. Many wildlife habitats are now trampled by the march of unplanned growth and development."

Kimball said that there are many things the average citizen can do to improve habitat. He can build a mini-refuge for wildlife in a section of the school grounds, or on a vacant lot in his town or suburb, he said.

The conservationist suggested an area at least an eight of an acre in size surrounded by a split rail fence. Berry-producing trees and small bushes will provide a good natural habitat for many varieties of wildlife, he said.

On a smaller scale, Kimball suggested backyard birdhouses. The entrance to the house should be 1 1/2 inches in diameter, six to eight inches above the floor. The floor should be four by four inches in size, and the house eight to ten inches deep.

Kimball suggested that in landscaping property, trees and shrubs that produce berries will provide food for wild birds. Dogwood, serviceberry, cherry, sumac and autumn olive are some examples, he said.

Waller signs pay raise

Governor Bill Waller signed a $22 plus million teacher's pay package late Tuesday, March 4, which will increase the salaries of Mississippi teachers by an average of $1,300.

"Although this legislation does not provide all the desired educational improvements and advancements," Waller said, "I feel that it is a significant step toward meeting the goals and recommendations of the Quality Education Committee and other study groups which I have appointed."

Waller said that the pay increase was based primarily upon experience. The bill also calls for a reduction in the teacher-pupil ratio in the lower grades and a system for testing beginning teachers.

Veterans vans begin state tour

A Veterans Administration mobile van will be in Biloxi March 20 and in Gulfport March 21 to answer questions about veterans programs. The vans in Biloxi and Gulfport are part of a statewide tour being conducted by Veterans' Benefit Counselors March 17-April 18.

program has brought VA services to 141,075 veterans in the past two and one half years. Starting in June 1972 the ten VA vans have traveled 266,000 miles visiting 2,589 communities.

Two VA van tours have been conducted with success in Mississippi. From January through April 1973 and in September and October 1974 vans manned by the Jackson Center visited 73 cities. The benefits assistance provided to 5,208 Mississippians equates to a higher number of veterans assisted per city visited than the national average.

Jackson VA Center officials planning the itinerary for this tour are conferring with state and local officials to determine cities and areas in which the VA Counselors can be of the greatest help to veterans.

"In so far as possible, the approach of this tour will be to solve current problems of veterans," Marilyn J. Cook, Assistant VA Center Director for the Regional Office said.

The counselors will confer with veterans on employment, G. I. Bill Education and Training, and student loans, veteran's insurance, home loans, dental and medical care and compensation and pensions.

The program will utilize specially equipped vans for visits to veterans in cities and towns across the United States. To date the van

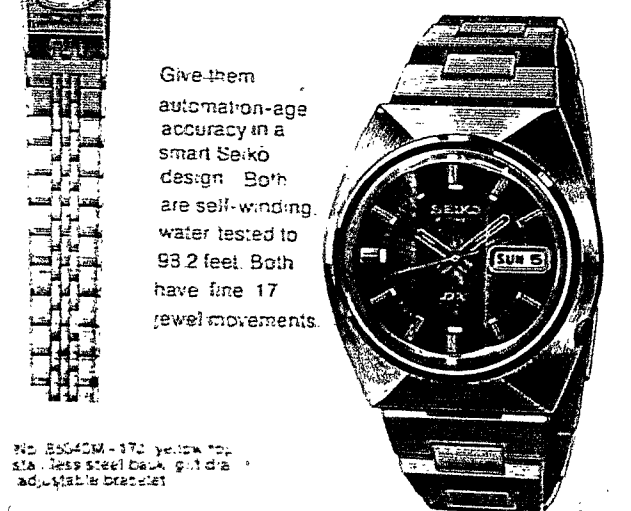

Suggestions sought for funds

A public meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. March 17 in the Bay Junior High School Auditorium to announce and discuss a new federal community development grant program.

The City of Bay St. Louis is now in the process of applying for $250,000 in funds under this program. Area residents are urged to attend the meeting and any comments will be taken into consideration in setting application priorities.

Bay St. Louis will be one among many cities in this area competing for funds provided by the federal grant. Priority will be given to communities showing the greatest need. The grant program was established by Congress in August, 1974 under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

Agricultural service begins identification

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office is beginning a Tract System Program to identify the farms of Pearl River and Hancock Counties. The report will provide up-to-date information on the ownership and operator as well as the location of tracts of land on aerial photographs.

Social security numbers and addresses of farm operator, agent and owner are needed at the time of the tract identification. The name of both husband and wife is necessary if the farm is listed under joint ownership.

Farmers of Pearl River and Hancock Counties are asked to report to the ASCS office to make the identification.

Spring weather and colorful blossoms have spurred much activity in yards and gardens in Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the twin towns are a delight to see.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club would like to take this opportunity to say a grateful and encouraging word to all our fellow citizens.

We all enjoy the beauty of spring flowers that grace our countryside though many of us lack the time and resources to be active gardeners. There is, however, a very important part that each and every one can play in the matter of beautification and that is in the area of Litter Control.

Our newspapers recently have featured many articles, letters and editorials on the subject of cleaning up all along the Gulf Coast. For 28 years,

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs has sponsored an Annual Spring Pilgrimage. Eight communities are participating this year. This Pilgrimage will come to Bay St. Louis-Waveland on Wednesday, March 19. A map of the Pilgrimage route is being published in today's issue of the Sea Coast Echo.

We issue an appeal to every one to cooperate in the simple matter of placing your own trash in a proper receptacle whether it be in a public place or in your own home.

In this way, the entire community can have a small but vital part in helping so that our communities appear at their very best when our visitors arrive.

Mrs. Lelyn W. Nybo, President
Bay-Waveland Garden Club

Bicentennial News

Editor's Note: The following challenge was researched by Joe Pilet, representing the DAR on the Hancock County-Bay-Waveland Bicentennial Committee.

In 1892, Bay St. Louis had no banks, no electric lights, no gas, no hard surfaced streets, no automobiles, no public schools, no movie theaters, no bridge across the Bay of St. Louis, no sea wall, no federally-owned Post Office, no sidewalks, no telephones, no City Hall, no courthouse, no water-works, and no paid fire department.

Fifty years later, in 1942, Bay St. Louis had a Commission form of Government, municipally-owned waterworks system, municipally-owned natural gas system, a paid fire department, boasted "the best drinking water in the world" and had 24-hour electric current service for domestic and industrial purposes. We also had two banks federally guaranteed, one Building and Loan Association, one trunkline railroad, one major seafood cannery, one preparatory college, one convent academy, one accredited high school, three city elementary schools, school and grade school for blacks. The city also boasted a seminary for young black men studying for the priesthood, three major movie theaters, a city park and recreational center, one public library, a federal post office, the finest railroad depot between New Orleans and Mobile, a Rotary Club, a Garden Club, a Chamber of Commerce, a Woodmen of the World Chapter, a Knights of Columbus Chapter, a $50,000 Masonic building, an ice manufacturing plant, a bottling works, a first-class hotel, hard-surfaced streets, the Kings Daughters Hospital, and a free toll bridge. The population at that time was 5,000 souls.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was President of the United States, and Paul B. Johnson was the governor of our State. The Hancock County Board of Supervisors included H.W. Weston, Pres.; S. J. Craft, J. E. Smith, T. J. McArthur and L. S. Bourgeois; A. J. Carver was sheriff, E. H. Hoffmann Clerk of Courts, and there were 81½ miles of hard surfaced roads in the county.

From a humble beginning those were 50 years of outstanding progress—progress for which leaders of that era could be justifiably proud.

The year is 1975 — the eve of our Great Nation's 200th birthday as a free people. That we are making great strides toward a better community and a better quality of life is self-evident. We are still a "land of the free—we are at Liberty to mold our future."

What will historians say of our efforts and our accomplishments in the year 1992? It is up to each of us to mold that future.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

COLLING'S CORNER

By E. S. Colling

We watched a little bird sitting on a branch outside our window. Little did he care that the Ides of March had come. To him it was just another day. Important that Spring was in the air, and all the hootings of the bird of night could not dim his pleasure.

"Spring has come, the world rejoices!" As we watched him, we wondered why a poor little bird should be so happy when he must have known that his days would be few and full of struggle just to keep alive. But he seemed very happy just to snuggle against the bright new leaves on his bough, confident that God would send him food and shelter for the few remaining days of his life.

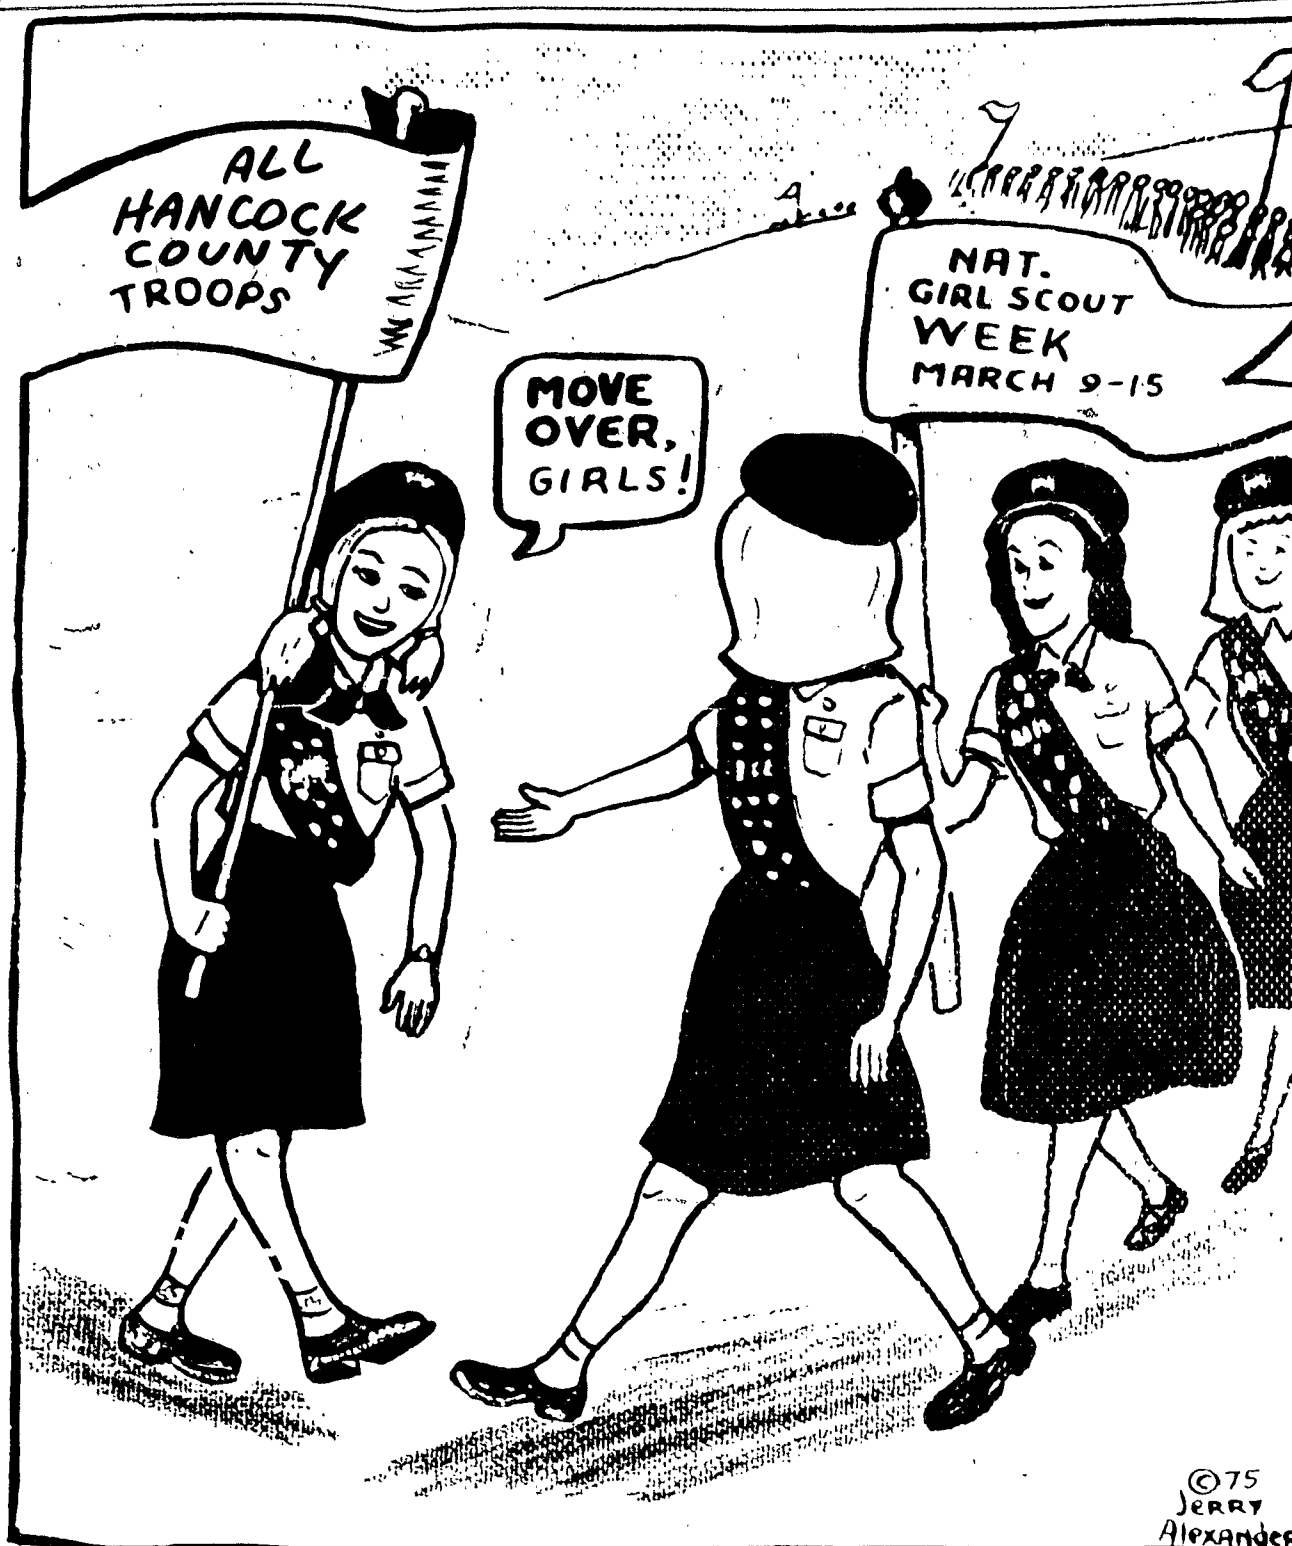

And we said to ourselves: "Little bird, we too are nearing the Great Climax of life; we too have little problems and sorrows and regrets; our life, like yours, is one of struggle and insufficiency; and as yet, nobody has come up with a reason why God should favor us more than you." But the little bird merely flipped his tail at these words of wisdom (a sure sign of a flippant mind!), so we continued, even more sternly.

"Don't you realize that every hour you spend twittering on a bough is wasted and gone forever? How much longer do you think you have to sing a song or catch a bug? And what will happen to you then? Your spirit will simply join those of billions of birds who, like you, wasted their lives chattering in the woodland without advancing the cause of birdkind one iota. Not one of your companions of today will even remember your name, and you will realize then that you have simply wasted your time between your hatching and your demise."

The little bird cocked his head and with his eye he looked me through and through. "I'm just as wise-for me," he chirped. "As you are wise for you!"

He flew away, and his horde of ancestors, who no doubt had been listening, probably joined in a good laugh at the stupid human who was just then understanding that living out a full life is just as frustrating for a bird as for a man.

County Agent's Notes

John W. Smith, County Agent

CORN WEED CONTROL

Atrazine and simazine will continue to be the mainstays in corn weed control. Both control a wide range of, both grasses and broadleaf weeds and provide a great deal of safety for the corn.

There are situations where other herbicides would be more effective than these two herbicides.

Where Johnsongrass or nutsedge are problems, then Eradicane or Sutan+ would be better choices. These are volatile herbicides and must be applied to a fairly dry, well-prepared seedbed. When applied under windy conditions and to a wet soil, high losses can occur.

Broadleaf signalgrass or bracharia is the grassy weed that often escapes atrazine. Lasso included in the weed control program will provide control of signalgrass.

In some cases it is desirable not to apply a herbicide until the crop is up to a stand. Bladex can be applied over-the-top of corn through the fourth leaf stage of growth. Bladex will provide control of about the same weeds as atrazine.

Where short residual herbicides are needed, then consider Sutan+ Eradicane, Lasso and Bladex. By the end of the growing season, only low levels of these herbicides should exist in the soil.

FERTILIZER

Make the very best use possible of what fertilizer is available. Here are some suggestions:

Soil test to see where phosphate and potash are most needed. Many soils are high in phosphate and potash, especially if high rates of fertilizer have been used for several years.

Omit nitrogen on legume crops that seldom, if every, respond to its use. Major crops that do not need nitrogen are soybeans and clover-grass pastures where good stand of clover exist.

Lime all soils that need lime. Lime improves the efficiency of fertilizer, especially phosphorus. The soils test is the only way to know for sure which soils need lime. It is not too late to apply lime for this year's crop.

FRUIT AND NUTS

Be sure your fruit and nut trees are planted by mid-March. Remember to dig a hole large enough for the roots rather than making the roots fit the hole. Use plenty of water when planting the tree and continue watering as needed.

If the tree has not been topped, be sure to cut it back about one-third. The roots will be unable to support a large top because they were broken during the digging and transporting.

Stake the tree. This will prevent the tree from blowing in the wind and disrupting the root system while re-establishing itself.

Again, check for borers around the base of peach trees. A gummy substance around the base generally indicates the presence of borers. Dig them out with a knife because if not removed, they may girdle the tree.

Also check peach trees for brown rot. You may eliminate some problems by removing the small black peaches that may still be on the trees or on the ground around the trees. Bury these mummies at least a foot deep.

Social Security

Housewives, students, and other people who plan to get a summer job should apply now for a social security number if they don't have one, according to Charles E. Wofford, social security district manager in Gulfport. "You should apply for your number several weeks before you need it for a job covered by social security," Wofford said. "Applications must be screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure that a second number isn't issued to that same person. Screening generally takes several weeks."

More than nine out of ten jobs are covered by social security. People applying for a social security number for the first time may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship.

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," Wofford said.

Our Readers Write

The Editor:

Please, everybody, don't take this as criticism or condemnation toward City Hall; I am merely trying to benefit everybody, including City Hall.

Let's first take on the issue of Esterbrook St. as an additional artery into the city from U.S. 90.

I have only driven over this street (took no measurements) and I feel sure this street is ample for two way "car" traffic. Will it be limited only to "car" traffic? Will it be a one way street all the way?

My questions are based on the apparent facts that for two way truck traffic the city will almost certainly have to acquire an extra 10 feet more or less the length of the street.

As you leave the highway, you will notice that in all of the 500 block the utility poles are in the ditch. You will also notice that from one end to the other the houses are very close to the street. Would any one be willing to give up another 10 ft?

At the St. Francis junction a tractor trailer "could" turn either way.

Fourth block? With utility poles on both sides of an already narrow street—check it.

Yes, a tractor trailer "could" turn either way at Necaise Avenue junction.

Third block? You are again confronted with utility poles. On both sides with an over all clearance (not measured) of not over 25 ft.

Now you are up to Touleme St. It would be almost impossible for a 30 or 40 foot trailer to make a left hand turn on to Touleme.

Now the profit or loss test: Check the distance between the buildings in the second block and then try and turn a tractor trailer on to Second Street which is the dead end of Esterbrook—a sure impossibility.

I am in no way taking sides. I feel sure it would be a beneficial artery...if the extra land needed could be acquired and all the utility poles and fences could be reasonably moved, along with the fact that to accommodate a truck route, you would also have to acquire a few feet off the south east corner of the cemetery to allow left hand turning on to second street.

I promised no criticism or condemnation, but unfortunately, I find myself in a position where I cannot finish without a mild case of criticism.

I feel sure that no one's questions the honesty of our three leaders, but merely for the sake of good business...I consider it time well spent to itemize if only for future references, and I don't think that "executive privileges" should have a hand where public funds are concerned.

In closing, may I suggest, for the desires of the majority and the hopeful betterment of all, let's make sure that we all have something to say about what form of government we are going to have in the future.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

WASHINGTON REPORT

When a group of 28 conservative leaders emerged recently after an important weekend strategy conference, we served notice on the White House that conservatives will not be taken for granted.

"No one has a lock on the 1976 presidential nomination," we emphatically reminded our colleagues on Capitol Hill. "Don't expect us to play dead."

If that particular conference suggested that conservatives are still alive and well despite the odds in the 94th Congress, then Senator Goldwater's speech to the National Young Republican Leadership Conference that same weekend confirmed it as fact. In short, those two events spelled out the symptoms and cures for our ailments.

The group attending the weekend conference included members of Congress, governors and other leaders. We explored ways conservatives can exert more influence on both the administration and congressional policies.

Among other things, we authorized political consultant F. Clifton White -- who helped engineer Goldwater's 1964 presidential nomination -- to initiate a nationwide inventory of individuals and organizations to determine where our strengths lie.

The main goal of such an inventory would be to coordinate such groups behind specific issues and, possibly, behind a candidate for President in 1976. If President Ford fills the bill, fine. If not, we intend to find a candidate who will carry the conservative banner.

It's that simple, we think. We're that serious about it.

The group concluded that we would neither endorse nor oppose any candidate for President at this time. We also expressed our determination to coordinate our strength within the Congress in order to exert more political pressure.

That's pretty much the same theme Goldwater carried to the 600 young people attending the Washington conference. I had the distinct privilege and honor of introducing Senator Goldwater to that enthusiastic throng.

"He's our conservative conscience," I told them. "We said he was right in 1964. Now they know he was right in many areas."

Goldwater didn't disappoint them. He told them what he thought about the state of the nation and about the future of this nation's conservatives.

"You are going to have to work to elect a Congress that will have the courage to do something for the taxpayer instead of one which constantly beats its chest about the poor, underprivileged wage earner and in the next moment heaps more taxes upon him," he said.

"Let me tell you what conservatism is," he continued. "Conservatism is the real deep gut feeling about freedom. It is a feeling that says that nothing is worthwhile unless we are free men."

McCutchon named outstanding citizen

After the dinner, Robinson pointed at McCutchon's Bicentennial '76 pin and said, "I knew this had to be your night. I saw that there were exactly 76 reservations for this dinner, and I knew it had to be you."

McCutchon moved to Pass Christian in 1963 and since that time has served as president of the city's United Fund. He was active in forming a drug abuse center, and has been a promoter of the city's anti-litter campaign. He is presently chairman of the Bicentennial Committee and helped Pass Christian receive its Bicentennial community designation. In 1969, he was also named the outstanding alumnus of the graduate school of Business Administration at Tulane University.

Upon receiving the Rotary award, McCutchon said, "I accept this award humbly. I believe in Pass Christian and will do my best to keep it as fine a place to live as it is right now. Thank you very much for this honor."

McCutchon was the 20th winner of the award. Twelve previous winners were also present at the dinner. The award, which is given annually to a Pass Christian citizen, is not based on the nominee's performance for just the past year but for his extended service to the community over a period of years.

Landry named Star student

Don Landry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Landry of Kiln, has been selected the Star student from Hancock North Central High School. The selection was based on Landry's high scholastic average for the first semester and his high score on the American College Test.

Landry is also the recipient of the Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow award. He plans to enroll at Mississippi State University next year to study chemical engineering.

Ronald Burks of Carriere was selected by Landry as his Star teacher. Burks is a graduate of Pearl River Jr. College and the University of Southern Mississippi and is presently working on his master's degree. He is a teacher of industrial drafting at Hancock North Central.

Chamber seeks produce

their produce must contact the chamber office at 452-2252. No permit of any kind will be required.

The Market will be open two days a week and will sell strictly vegetables and homemade jams and preserves.

Outstanding citizen

E. Davis McCutchon of Pass Christian is congratulated by Mayor Steve Saucier on his selection as Outstanding Citizen at a Rotary Club banquet last Thursday in the Pass Christian High School cafeteria.

Management workshop offered

The Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), South Mississippi Chapter No. 130, will hold a workshop for owners and managers of small businesses and other interested persons Wednesday, March 26, at the Sheraton-Biloxi Motor Inn from 1 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

The workshop, entitled "Human Factors in Small Business," is designed to develop an awareness of the human factors in managing business. The stress will be on skills needed for developing teamwork between the manager and his employees.

Registration is limited to 40 persons and must be made in advance. Anyone desiring information concerning registration, should contact the Management Assistance Division of U. S. Small Business Administration, co-sponsor of this workshop, Biloxi Branch Office, Gulf

National Life Insurance Building, Biloxi, Mississippi, telephone 435-1459.

Mrs. Peters

named Library
chairman

Mrs. Erna Peters of Pass Christian has been named Library Week Chairman for Pass Christian, announced Francis Lundy, 1975 State Citizen's Committee chairman for the annual event.

As local chairman, Mrs. Peters will coordinate area activities for the annual Library Week observance, April 13 - 19.

"LIBRARIES HAVE IT is the theme for Mississippi's Library Week this year," said Mrs. Peters, "and we want everyone in Pass Christian to find out just how much they do have to offer."

Pass Christian Library staff and the Friends of Pass Christian Library will provide numerous programs. A calendar of events and programs will be publicized in the news media in the near future and will be available at the library.

Recently, a letter was addressed to the principals of the local schools asking their support in an "Essay" and "Poster" contest for the students. The winning "Essays" and "Posters" will be on display in the library during National Library Week.

Students selected to Who's Who

Two Bay St. Louis residents have been selected to "Who's Who in American Junior Colleges."

Mrs. Pauline Wesselman, wife of John B. Wesselman, is an English major at Pearl River Junior College.

Miss Myra Stieffel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton James Stieffel, is an elementary education major at Pearl River. She is also a member of SMEA.

Auxiliary sponsors Arts Festival

Artisans in Action will be among the featured activities scheduled this weekend at the 1975 Picayune Arts Festival at the Gulf South Fairgrounds Building.

The Arts Festival sponsored by the Picayune Junior Auxiliary will also feature various art exhibits including winners of the recent "Spring Art Show" sponsored by the Pearl River Arts League, a special college arts exhibit, and exhibits by kindergarten, elementary and special education classes.

Other attractions will include a country store and calico kitchen, a pinata exhibit, and a demonstration of radio controlled model plane flying.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Tickets are valid for both Saturday and Sunday admission. Displays will be open 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday and from noon until 5 p.m. Sunday.

USM alumni plan social

A social for Hancock County alumni and prospective students of the University of Southern Mississippi has been planned for 7 p.m. March 31 at Gulf National Bank in Bay St. Louis. John Rosetti of Bay St. Louis announced that Harvey Post, admissions director at USM, will be the guest speaker.

The University of Southern Mississippi will celebrate its 65th anniversary March 30.

Lott supports reforms

Mississippi Congressman Trent Lott has endorsed a 16-point program aimed at opening up House floor and committee procedures proposed by the Task Force on Reform of which he is a member.

The Task Force report, issued last Thursday, listed various "weaknesses" in the 94th Congress, according to Lott. He said the report recommends reforms calculated to make the House "more effective and respected."

"Let's face it," Lott said. "Many leaders in the House have talked about reform for some time now, but they have done very little to actually bring about reform. I think it is time for us to get down to the real weaknesses in this Congress."

Recommendations were also set forth by the 18-member Task Force. Ten of the 16 proposals have not been voted on by the House before.

St. Joseph feast planned

The Feast of St. Joseph with the traditional St. Joseph Table will be celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelius C. Rhodes, 354 Main St., Bay St. Louis, Wednesday, March 19.

The St. Joseph Altar and Table from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday; March 18 and again from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. Wednesday, March 19, at which time the doors will be closed to the public. Doors will reopen at 2:30 p.m. for the distribution of the blessed bread and blessed lucky beans.

Longo plans

St. Clare's Day

Waveland Mayor John Longo has officially declared Sunday, March 16, St. Clare Day. The day will be celebrated by a community mass at 9 a.m. followed by a breakfast and open house at St. Clare School.

The theme of the event is "Grow with us." Mayor Longo said that he hoped that St. Clare's Day would become an annual event in which the community as a whole could celebrate and reflect on their growth and community fellowship.

Eggs make zesty hors d'oeuvres

Clam Rolls, piping hot and golden brown. Simple to make and the first dish to go at any party. These clam rolls come from Hawaii, but they can be as familiar to you as eggs. Because eggs make Hawaiian Clam Rolls come to life in your home. Eggs are so economical, so good for you, and here is an added dividend. Eggs are an international mixer, an essential food for a homemaker's continental menu.

CLAM ROLLS

FILLING:
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
3 cans minced clams, drained
1 8 oz. package cream cheese
3/4 cup bread crumbs
1 8 oz. can black olives, chopped
2 teaspoons A-1 sauce
2 tablespoons finely chopped green onions
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon MSG
1/4 teaspoon salt
thin pancake batter

THIN EGG SKINS:

6 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup water

Filling: Blend first 10 ingredients until well mixed and set aside. Meanwhile make thin egg skins.

Thin Egg Skins: Combine beaten eggs, cornstarch, salt and water. Drop mixture into greased 8" fryling pan by 1/4 cupfuls for each circle. When cooked, turn over for 2 seconds. Stack until ready to use.

To make Clam Rolls, divide clam mixture according to number of egg skins. Roll out and then roll in egg skins, tucking the ends in and lapping the edge over well. Place in refrigerator until ready to cook, at least 2 hours. Slice 1" thick or leave whole for cooking. Dip in a thin pancake batter and fry in deep fat until golden brown. Serve hot. Makes 8 generous servings.

Bay dancers win contest

Buffy and Annissa Jaquillard, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jaquillard, Bay St. Louis, were first place winners in this year's ad contest for Piccola's School of Dance.

Both girls and their mother earned front cover of the Review Book for selling the largest number of ads for the dance review to be held in June.

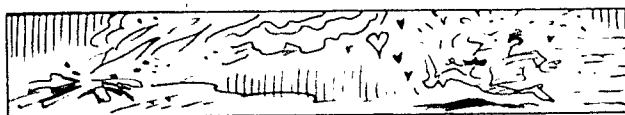

Mrs. Jaquillard and daughters expressed thanks to everyone for their help.

Homemakers conduct training

The Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council conducted a leader training session on mini gardening March 6 at the Extension Auditorium with Mrs. Ethel Breaux, president presiding. Plans for the annual flower and vegetable show May 27 at the Agriculture Center, Necaise Ave., were discussed. Members of the Pearls Extension Homemakers Club of Pearllington and the new Bay St. Louis Club, were introduced to the group. Mrs. Lucy Baker, a Young Homemakers Extension Club member, was hostess for the social hour.

The next Council meeting was scheduled for 1 p.m. April 3.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. RAWLS

Johnson-Rawls

Miss Paula Marie Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Mary Saucier of Bay St. Louis, Miss., became the bride of J.W. Rawls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Rawls, Picayune, Miss., March 1 at the Bay St. Louis First Missionary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Lawrence Collins, pastor, performed the afternoon ceremony. Given in marriage by her brother, Jimmie Johnson, the bride wore a formal gown of imported silk organza and Venice lace. The empire bodice featured Renaissance sleeves and high neckline trimmed with matching lace and camellia pink pleated organza. The pleated organza skirt and encircled the chapel length train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of Venice lace leaves enhanced with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, daisies, baby's breath and English ivy. Mrs. Diane Brown of Gulfport, Miss., attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a blue floral organza empire style gown and carried a basket of spring flowers. Bridesmaids were Miss Sherie Hinton, Poplarville, and Miss Kim Coles, Bay St. Louis. They wore pink floral organza empire style gowns and carried baskets of spring blossoms.

Bruce Staten, Catahoula, Miss., served as best man. Groomsmen were Howard Lewis, Moss Point and Charles Johnson, Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride. Frank Davis and Samuel Sheppard, both of Bay St. Louis served as ushers. A reception was held at St. Rose de Lima School cafeteria. Mrs. Saucier received their guests wearing a pink floor length organza dress and the mother of the groom chose a long pink double knit dress. Pink and white orchid corsages completed their ensembles.

For traveling the bride wore an orange knit pantsuit, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The couple will reside in Moss Point, Miss.

The 28th Annual Spring Pilgrimage of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs will feature four local homes in Bay St. Louis and Waveland March 19. Mrs. Charles Elliott, local chairwoman for the pilgrimage, has made arrangements for the program which will begin at the Bay-Waveland Garden Center, 114 Leonhard Ave., Bay St. Louis at 9 a.m.

Included will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. DeBlanc, 118 South Beach Blvd., Waveland. This elegant house, above the beach, centered with well appointed garden plants and shrubbery, will be the third home on the pilgrimage.

Four columns surround the facade with corresponding entablature and base. Well balanced windows and doorway complete the suburban home of brick structure design.

Entering the doorway, a drawing room and dining room are furnished with contemporary and traditional pieces of subdued color. Informality is the keynote to the adjacent family room with strong colors and furniture that serves more than one purpose. A library with many aged and valuable editions add to the typical old and new concept with a wall reserved for family pictures. A modern and efficient kitchen completes the first floor. A second floor containing bedrooms and baths complement the first floor.

Behind the house is a garden beautifully tailored to add to the visitation.

The retirement home of Mrs. M. S. Mattison will also be opened to pilgrimage visitors. The garden of this home has been landscaped and cared for by the hostess and the house is a studied extension of the grounds.

In the living room the draperies and furnishings are printed with flowers and foliage in shades of pink and green with accents of soft red.

Mrs. Mattison's collection of oil paintings enhances the decor throughout her home.

The bedroom is a refreshing expression of spring in jonquil yellow and white with charming wicker furnishings and numerous potted plants to add to its fresh appeal.

The kitchen features wood cabinets which add country charm. From this room one steps down to a screened living area with a view of the rear garden. From this porch it is only a step to the terrace and living area.

Former resident releases novel

Diamondhead resident, Mrs. Georgette Brockman Hall, will release her latest novel, "The Sicilian", published by Pelican Publishing Company, in late spring. The novel deals with the assassination of New Orleans Police Chief David C. Hennessy by warring factions of the Sicilian Mafia.

Mrs. Hall attended Sophie Newcomb College for two years and was among the first group of women permitted to attend Tulane University, where she majored in journalism. She received her BA degree from Tulane and in 1966 graduated with honors from George Peabody College for Teachers with a Master's Degree in Library Science. She has completed additional graduate study at Loyola, Tulane, University of Southern Mississippi and Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Hall taught English and journalism at Bay High

Diamondhead hosts revue

The first annual Miss Diamondhead beauty pageant will be held at the Bay St. Louis Junior High Auditorium Saturday, April 5th, at 7:30 p.m. The judging will be a preliminary to the Little Miss-Miss Teen Mississippi pageant.

There are four age divisions: Tiny Miss 2 to 5 years-old, Little Miss 6-to-10 years-old, Pre-teen 11-to-13 years-old, and Teen 14-to-17 years-old.

The pageant is open to any girl in the Pass Christian area and Hancock County. Entry blanks can be picked up at the Little Mushroom in Bay St. Louis.

Mattison retirement cottage

The final pilgrimage stop in Waveland will be the home of Mrs. M.S. Mattison who is responsible for the landscaping of the informal garden as well as most of the actual gardening.

Shop owner supports bicentennial fashion

Bicentennial fashions will be much in demand this year, according to Jane Van Scooter, manager of the Princess Dress Shop in Bay St. Louis. "Our collections of Bicentennial skirts and aprons are very much in demand", said Miss Van Scooter. In her shop she has a wardrobe of patterns including the Bicentennial Star, George Washington's Hatchet, and other variations of early patch-work quilt designs manufactured exclusively by Fisherman's Cross of Maine.

"With emphasis on patriotism", said Miss Van Scooter, "these red, white and blue garments have definite appeal. The collection is also favored because they are packable and have easy-care washing instructions."

Miss Van Scooter buys the dresses on frequent trips to New York and Dallas markets. She said that the return to feminine touches of lace, tucks, pleats and fine soft fabrics make the bicentennial dresses even more attractive to modern customers.

Miss Van Scooter was the commentator for the recent bicentennial fashion show sponsored by the DAR in Ocean Springs. Local models for the show included Mrs. Fred Siquefield, Mrs. Guy Billups, Mrs. Kerry Ezell, Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet, Miss Krista Ezell and Miss Lisa Rosetti.

Wendlings celebrate anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wendling of Waveland celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary Friday, March 7, with a dinner-dance at the Broadwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi. Joining in the celebration were friends Bill and Catherine Steele and Hazel Breland. Music was provided by Leon Kelner.

Arts festival begins week's events

The Spring Festival of Arts sponsored by the Gulf Coast Arts Council began Sunday with the Long Beach Garden Club pilgrimage, a long beach library art exhibit by Phyllis Randall and a textile and leather craft show. The program, which will continue through March 22, features a variety of events including tours of local homes, art exhibits, craft shows, concerts and dramatic performances.

Today the festival will feature Pass Christian homes in the pilgrimage and the paintings of Phyllis Williams Levy at Pass Christian Library.

Pilgrimages in other communities have been planned throughout next week by the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs. The schedule will be Ocean Springs and Gulf Hills, March 15, Pascagoula, March 16, Bay St. Louis and Waveland, March 19, Gulfport, March 21 and Biloxi, March 22.

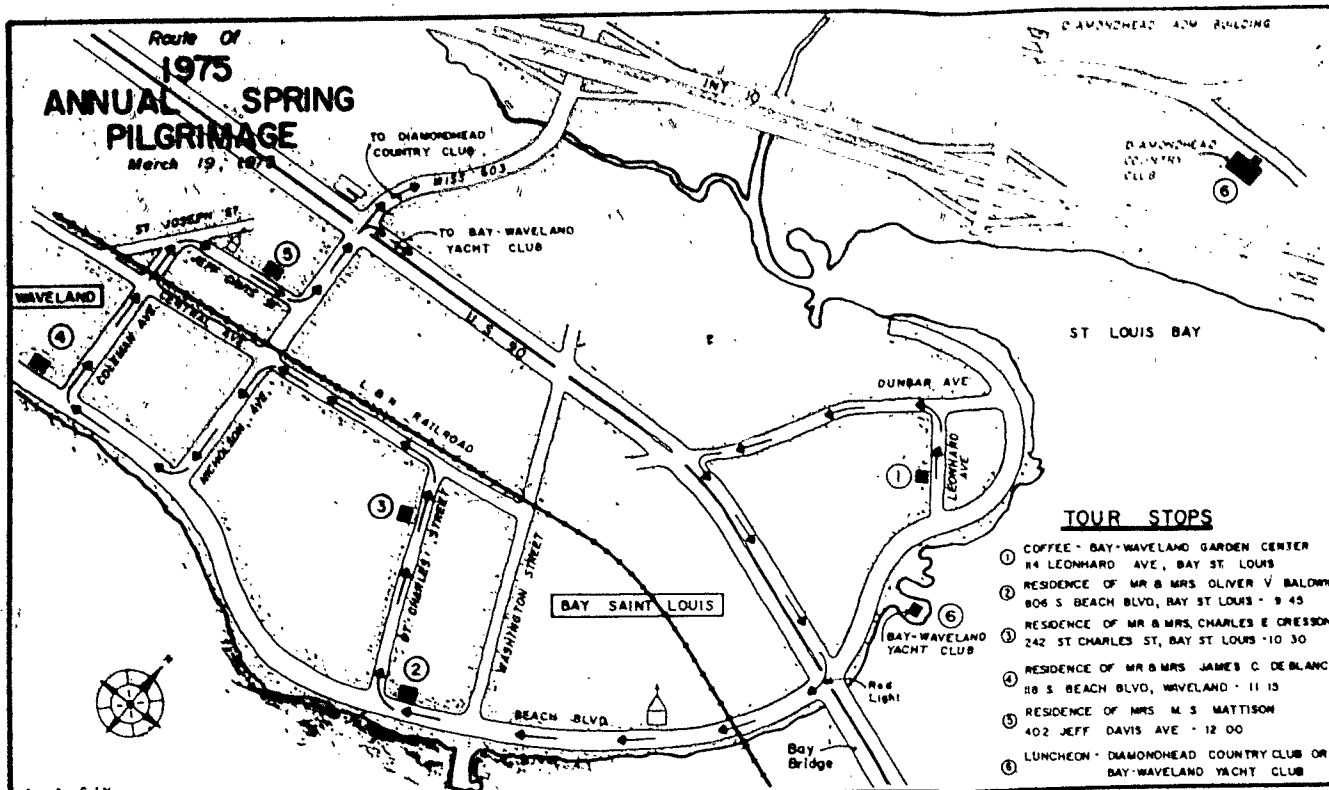

The Gulfport and Biloxi pilgrimages, March 21 and 22, will feature the placement of two markers at the Gulfport and Biloxi Small Craft Harbors in tribute to William Bartram, an American horticulturist who travelled the Mississippi coast in 1777. The ceremonies are part of a National Garden Club Bicentennial project following the state theme "Preserve, Protect and Promote - The Great Outdoors."

In arts and crafts, the festival offers exhibits at the Ocean Springs, Harrison County and Bay St. Louis Libraries, the Hancock Bank Tax Office, Gulfport, Biloxi Sheraton Hotel, Moran's Art Studio and the Magnolia Hotel, Biloxi. Local artists will be featured at all of the shows. Nadine and Dick Stamm and Alva J. Fitzpatrick will exhibit from Bay St. Louis; Dalton Shrouds King and Josephine Alfonso from Gulfport and Joe Moran from Biloxi.

The Gulf Coast Arts Council is also sponsoring several musical and dramatic performances as part of the spring festival. The Madrigal Singers from Long Beach High School will perform throughout the week. The group will perform today in Pass Christian and March 21 in Gulfport.

The Long Beach Junior High School chorus will perform a 50 minute song-story about the fight for freedom in the United States entitled "Revolutionary Ideas" at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of next week at the USM Gulf Park Campus.

Professional opera companies and symphonies will also be featured including the Gulf Coast Opera Theatre and the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra. The March 16 program at Biloxi High School will present the combined talents of the Gulf Coast Opera Company and the Perkinston Junior College Chorus in excerpts from "Carousel," "Sound of Music," and "Evening at Beauvoir." Three New Orleans soloists, Maria Lopez, Mona Bond and Edward Broussard will join the group in excerpts from "Tosca" and "Tannhauser".

Other soloists will be Emelie Wiltz, Denise Rohrbacher and Byrd Austell Cassibry. Wanda Steward is featured in the children's performance.

The Ronnie Koe Trio from New Orleans will appear with the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra March 17 in Biloxi performing such selections as "Summer of '42," "On a Clear Day," "Amazing Grace," "The Way We Were," and "McArthur Park."

Dancing will be featured March 20 with a program by the Magnolia Swingers and the Teens Tandem Twirlers, two local square dance organizations. The teens in the group, ranging from age nine to 19, have been chosen by the National Square Dance Convention to represent the Gulf Coast and the State of Mississippi in Kansas City, Missouri, this June.

Drama is another art which the council will feature next week. The Gulf Coast Junior College at Perkinston will present "Carousel" at Gulfport East High School March 21. The production stars Marilyn Porter of Long Beach and Don Barnett of Lucedale.

Biloxi Little Theatre will perform "Plaza Suite", a Neil Simon comedy, March 22 as the finale to the Festival of the Arts. The production stars

Peggy Kern and Dela Cruz, Don Burr and Teri Morgan, and Eddie Seeler, Bob Smith and Kelly Ryan in three one-act comedies.

All of the programs sponsored in the Spring Festival are free and open to the public. Complete listings of events, times and places are available from Arts Council members.

Pass Christian pilgrimage

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Billups, 625 East Beach, Pass Christian, is one of the homes on display today as part of the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Club Spring Pilgrimage. The house is particularly noted for its circular staircase.

Operation Share enters last week

The Very Reverend Colin Cooke, S. T. of Washington, D. C. will conduct liturgical services during the final week of Operation Share March 16-21 at Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Pineville.

Father Jude McCauley, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes said that the evangelical program, sponsored by the Parish Council, had already reached approximately 65 persons during its previous five weeks.

Father McCauley said that the program hoped to show those without church ties how to cope with their problems to achieve peace and salvation. Wayne Favre, chairman of the program, said all members of the Catholic Community were invited to attend the nightly service.

Because Your Clothes Talk About You

... and what they say determines what kind of woman you are. That's why we present costumes that are statements, dresses that say you are today's woman.

Pass Garden Club hosts guest speaker

Organic gardening was the subject of a talk by H. M. Ludlow of Vancleave at the March meeting of the Pass Christian Garden Club.

Ludlow gave instructions on how to make a compost heap. Any plant life or sea life with bacteria can be used, he said. He said to gather material such as spoiled hay, fresh stock or barnyard fertilizer, weeds, rotten wood, leaves, pine or straw and layer them with dirt wetting down with a sprinkler as much as the pile will absorb. When the pile is of sufficient height, areate by sticking a small pipe into the top of the pile and rotating it so the holes will allow oxygen and rain to penetrate to the bottom layers. It will take approximately seven to nine months to make a good compost, he said.

Mrs. Grover Brandt was appointed as new president at the meeting to replace Mrs. Edward Dinkelspiel who resigned at the beginning of the meeting.

Mrs. Bertha Giani reported on publicity for the Spring Pilgrimage to be held in Pass Christian today. She announced that reservations would not be necessary for the Pilgrimage luncheon at the Pass Christian Yacht Club.

The name of Gregory Donmert was submitted as representative for Pass Christian to the Horticulture Seminar at Mississippi State University for 1975.

An activity for the Hands Program was carried out recently by placing shrubbery and landscaping around the new sign at the Pass Elementary School and Administration Building on North Street. Italian cypress, bottle brush, Photinia, Privet and red-wing Azaleas were set out by members of the Girl Scouts. The planting was done in commemoration for the Spring Pilgrimage and the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding.

MISS ILA MARIE FINLEY

Miss Finley engaged to Mr. Dieterich

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jerome Finley of New Orleans, Louisiana, and Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ila Marie, to Glenn Herman Dieterich, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Herman Dieterich, Sr.

Grandparents of Miss Finley are Mrs. Thomas Watson Hogg of Columbia, Mississippi, and the late Mr. Hogg, and Mrs. Arthur Bryan Finley of Sheffield, Alabama, and the late Mr. Finley.

Miss Finley is a graduate of Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in journalism.

Miss Finley is presently employed by WWL-Radio in New Orleans, where she serves as merchandising director.

The prospective bridegroom is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Victor Huff and the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. Dieterich. Mr. Dieterich attended the University of California in Los Angeles, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Loyola University in New Orleans.

Mr. Dieterich is presently employed by WWL-TV in New Orleans as a television producer-director.

The wedding will be solemnized May 3 at 2 p.m. in the Saint Louis Cathedral of New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. Finley will entertain at a reception immediately following the ceremony at the Vista Shores Country Club.

Miss Finley has chosen her sister, Mrs. Jerald Neil Shank, as her matron of honor, and Mrs. Jeffrey Crane, Mrs. David Hanchey, Mrs. Donald Pope, and Miss Jane Reiser as bridesmaids.

Attending Mr. Dieterich will be Stephen Wegmann, best man, and George Allen, Patrick Ault, Jerald Shank and Mike Hadley as groomsmen.

A program of wedding music will be presented by Mr. George Berger, soloist.

The wedding will take place at Shoreline Baptist Church March 21 at 7 p.m. A reception will follow at the church. Relatives and friends are invited through this announcement.

Mitchell-Elliott

Harold E. Mitchell and Mrs. Rita Nell Elliott were married in Bay St. Louis March 6 at 7 p.m. by Justice of the Peace Joe Dobson.

Attending the ceremony were Mitchell's daughters, Cindy and Bridget, and Mrs. Elliott's son Charles. The couple will reside on Old Kiln Rd.

Mrs. Elliott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Patrick of Mobile, Ala.

VFW schedules registration

A lite-a-bike program will be sponsored by the Theodore S. Price Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3253 in Bay St. Louis this Saturday, March 15. Local police and fireman will aid the VFW post in applying safety tape to as many as 300 bicycles at the Bay St. Louis Police and Fire Station.

All of the bicycles will be inspected for safety and registered with the local police so that stolen bicycles will be easier to trace. Prizes will be given to each participant.

Peterson baptism

John Victor Peterson Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson Sr., Waveland, was baptized Sunday, March 2, at St. Ann's Catholic Church, Clermont Harbor, with Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor officiating.

Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garcia.

Archaeology club plans Indian exhibit

"Point to the Past" is the theme chosen for the fourth annual showing of Indian Artifacts by the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Mississippi Archaeological Association. The exhibit will be held at the Edgewater Shopping Mall in Biloxi March 20-22. The show will be open to the public from 6 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Roman Neumaier, president of the local chapter, announced that there will be a display of artifacts of Mississippi prehistory, with particular emphasis on those from the coastal area. Also included will be collections from other nearby areas and related materials, such as rocks and minerals, fossils, and later historic remains.

Mrs. Neumaier said that anyone who desires to participate by displaying a private collection should contact either Donald DeMetz of Pass Christian or Louis J. Fernandez, Jr., of Bay St. Louis.

The Mississippi Archaeological Association is a scientific-educational organization for the purpose of studying, preserving, interpreting, and distributing information regarding the archaeology of Indian prehistory and history, particularly in Mississippi. The Association is a non-profit organization and the majority of its approximately 200 members are amateurs. It has been in existence for ten years and is affiliated with the Eastern States Archaeological Association. It works closely with the Department of Archives and History of the State of Mississippi. During the last several years, the local chapter which has about 50 members, has engaged in research work on state-owned property under permit by the Department of Archives and History, particularly in the Hancock County area.

"Little Foxes" opens March 20

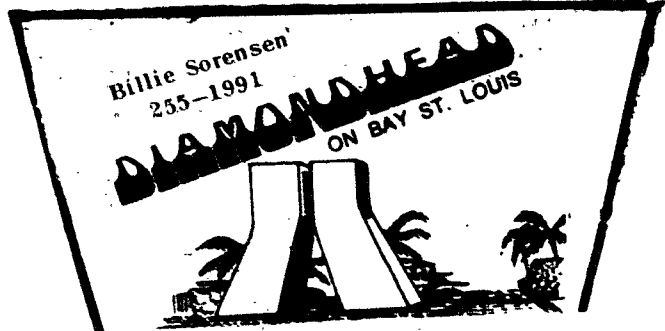

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will open its 1975 season with "The Little Foxes", a drama about a turn-of-the-century southern family by Lillian Hellman. The play will be presented March 20-22 at the theatre on Boardman Ave.

Starring in the production are Emily deMontluzin as Birdie Hubbard, Jay Decker as her husband Oscar, Nancy Gex as Regina Gibbons and Pete Chapman as Ben Hubbard. Also in the cast are Douglas Koger, Ed Craig, Mac McDonald, Becky

Markel, Pat Schott and Teddy Stechmann.

The play is directed by Burt Barrett with Florence Hughes Dyer as producer. The technical director and designer of the set, Mark Horne will be assisted by Vic Frankiewicz, John Holmes, and Faith Koger. Kathy Griffin is in charge of properties.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased at the door or in advance from Mrs. Sam Cuevas or Mrs. Wilma Keefe.

The Diamondhead Garden Club trip to Bellingrath Gardens in Theodore, Ala. March 2 drew 38 members and guests, including at least half a dozen husbands. It was the first time that I have ever conducted a meeting riding backwards on a bus.

Garden of the month goes to Comdr. and Mrs. Alvin Moore, with honorable mentions to Mr. and Mrs. T. Rawls and Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Wattingney. Mrs. Juanita Erwin was welcomed as a new member, and we trust that she has recuperated from her recent illness.

Plans were finalized for our first flower show to be presented at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grice of Mauna Loa Court. This must, of necessity, be by invitation only!

The Gardens were beautiful, the ride home made pleasant by a delectable repast and we have promised to do it again in order to accommodate a waiting list. Oh, yes, most of the Garden Club members enjoyed a Doberge and coffee party the night before hosted by Jo Gatipon and her two gracious sisters from New Orleans. On this occasion Marge Plugfelder was introduced as one of our new permanent residents. She and husband Bob are remodeling a lovely home in the woods hills here.

Good news for all the Catholics here who have really missed the Sunday Masses held here last Spring and Fall. Starting Easter Sunday Fathers Victor and Pierre of Kiln, Miss. will be celebrating the Mass at 11:15 a.m. at the Villa Motel . . . give it all your support so that the Masses may continue here.

Tennis, anyone? The last event was such a success we are having another men and women's singles match March 22 and 23. All entries must be made before March 17 to Gary Bourgeois at Diamondhead.

Barbara Dickerson really enjoying the visit of her sister, Mrs. R. Wood, from Middleton, Ohio, but the bowling team has missed Barbara being a "true blue" substitute. Cutest sight on the 8th Fairway. Hordes of golfers stream by while a cute three-year-old, Nicky George Simoncioni (can you believe that?) sells golf balls that accumulate in the empty lots nearby. I hear he made enough to treat he and his two sisters to some candy bars!

Have you seen those darling grand-children of Eugene and Florence Kibling, workers for the Fire Department here. Speaking of the Fire Department - there will be a very important meeting of ladies and gentlemen on March 18th at 7:30 p.m. at the Villa Motel according to Harrie Devine, President.

The Conrad Kleinpeters of Buras, La. are visiting Conrad's folks, Cecil and Luther Grice and one of their three children ten-year-old Crystal is bemoaning the fact that her two new horses can't be boarded here for her summer vacation. I hear that new stalls are much in demand.

The Dogwoods here are just breathtaking. It sets such a pretty stage for that new home on the 13th fairway where the Moses from New Orleans have just moved in.

Blue Jeans Club celebrate 27 years

Blue Jeans Garden Club celebrated its 27th birthday Tuesday, March 11, with a dinner at Ramada Inn, Waveland.

The cake in the shape of a pair of Blue Jeans, made by Mrs. Fred Horn, centered the table and miniature Easter baskets decorated each place setting.

Mrs. Horn, entertainment chairman, presented each member with a handmade blue jean doll pin and Mr. Horn entertained the group with a rendition of his old time favorites.

Mrs. Eunice Murray was a guest of the group. Mrs. William Richardson and Mrs. William Schaefer were in charge of party arrangements.

A short business session, with Mrs. A. M. Thomas, Club president presiding, preceded the dinner.

The next regular meeting was scheduled for April 21.

Stanislaus crushes Gulfport teams, 4-1

by David Pierson

The St. Stanislaus-Ole Lady's Academy tennis team defeated highly-touted Gulfport East Saturday and Gulfport Tuesday by identical 4-1, 5-0 scores. With the wins, the SSC-OLA teams served notice (as well as several match points) that it is a team that must be reckoned with.

In Saturday's match against Gulfport East, the only setback the SSC-OLA teams received was in the A-team boys' singles where Mike Plunkett of the Vikings defeated Mark Stipulski 6-4, 6-4.

In the other singles match, OLA freshman Liz Lagarde outtought Lisa Puckett 6-1, 4-6, 6-4. Liz Lagarde is the replacement for last year's standout, Barbara Marochino, who will be out for the season recovering from a knee operation.

Barbara Marochino was the state singles champion as a sophomore and was last year's runner-up for the deficit to tie the set at six games each. The two teams then went into a nine-point tiebreak with the first team to score five points winning the match.

The score was tied 2-2, but finally the OLA team reeled off three straight points on long volleys to claim the match. The winning point came on a partially deflected ball by Susan Benvenuti that dropped just over the net.

In the other A-team match, Bob Warner and Susie Tabor defeated Gulfport East's Glen Copponex and Jenny Hearn in mixed doubles, 6-3, 7-6.

In B-team action, the St. Stanislaus-OLA teams won all sets with the closest contest being in the boys' singles where Frank Sagnibene edged Mike McIlroy 7-6, 6-4.

In Tuesday's match against Gulfport, Liz Lagarde defeated Teresa Joyce in girls' singles 6-2, 6-0; and in the girls' doubles, the Benvenuti-Dickinson team crushed Doris Lang and Cindy Groving 6-1, 6-3.

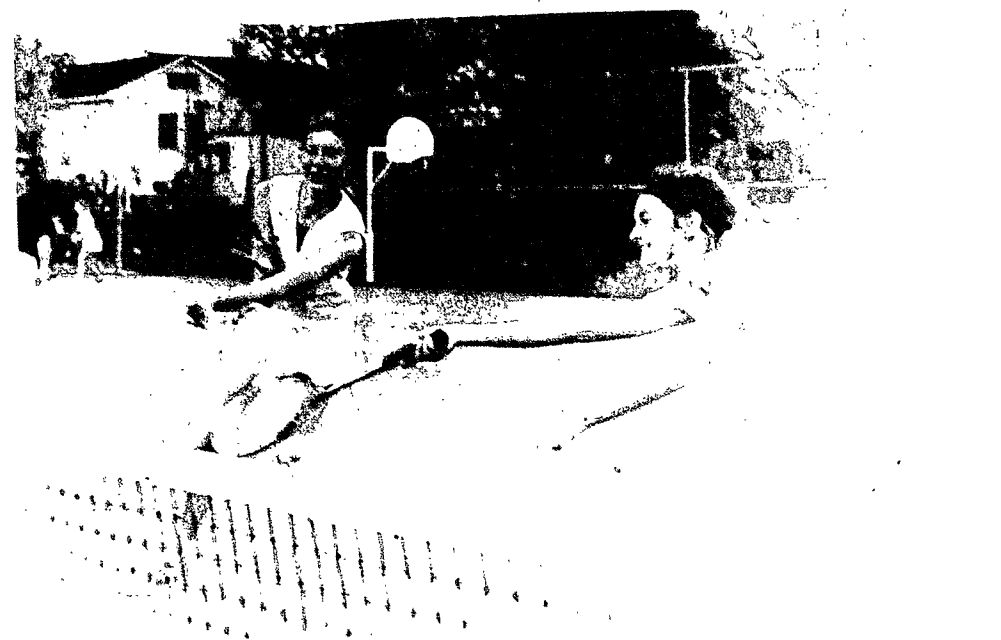

Bayne Dickinson and Tom Piland of St. Stanislaus shut out Gulfport's David Marks and Steve Bergun 6-0, 6-0. And in the mixed doubles, Bob Warner and Susie Tabor topped Ken Compton and Jari Ann Sawyer 6-0, 6-2.

The only loss SSC-OLA received was in the boys' singles where Mark Stipulski lost to Doug DeGroot 4-6, 4-6.

won all nine sets against Gulfport.

The St. Stanislaus-OLA netters are scheduled to play again this afternoon at St. Stanislaus against St. John's at 3 p.m. Then on Monday, SSC-OLA and Coast Episcopal, both undefeated teams, will meet in a head-to-head-clash between area teams.

Tops

Susan Benvenuti and Tricia Dickinson of OLA, last year's class B doubles champions, have started off the new season on the right foot by beating D'Iberville, Gulfport East, and Gulfport in their first three matches of the year.

Coast Episcopal extends win streak

Coast Episcopal High School extended its tennis winning streak to three in a row by sweeping both Vancleave and Pass High 4-0.

In Friday's match, the Raiders had almost as much ease winning all four matches in straight sets. Jamie Hans beat Dana Chipman 6-0, 6-2 in the boys' singles, and Anne Johnson defeated Mary Davids in girls' singles play 6-1, 6-2. Paul and Perry Clinkscales defeated Pass High's boys' doubles team of Colin Jones and James Gilbert 6-1, 6-1. In the girls' doubles, Katherine Johnson and Holly Vegas of Coast Episcopal outdueled Susie Necaise and Kay Shafiel 6-1, 7-5.

In the only B-team match, Regina Castelin and Jeannie

Episcopal defeated Vancleave 3-1, losing only the girls' singles match.

Against Pass High, the Raiders had almost as much ease winning all four matches in straight sets. Jamie Hans beat Dana Chipman 6-0, 6-2 in the boys' singles, and Anne Johnson defeated Mary Davids in girls' singles play 6-1, 6-2. Paul and Perry Clinkscales defeated Pass High's boys' doubles team of Colin Jones and James Gilbert 6-1, 6-1. In the girls' doubles, Katherine Johnson and Holly Vegas of Coast Episcopal outdueled Susie Necaise and Kay Shafiel 6-1, 7-5.

In the only B-team match, Regina Castelin and Jeannie

McClendon of Coast Episcopal edged past Sheir Sizemore and Connie Winstead in girls' doubles 6-4, 6-4.

Coast Episcopal will play Notre Dame this afternoon, and Pass High will travel to Gulfport for a 2:30 match against the Gulfport High Commodores.

Teams announce plans

Pearlington, Our Lady of the Gulf, St. Paul, St. Rose de Lima, and St. Stanislaus, as well as Pearl River Central, have announced plans to field teams in both track and softball in the Gulf Coast Western Conference.

The conference at a recent meeting also elected new officers for 1975. They are Michael Ryan, commissioner; Brother Malcolm, S.C., vice commissioner; Al Acker, secretary; and Sister John Christopher, treasurer.

The OLG boys basketball team was also recognized as Heart attack may strike its victims suddenly, but the conditions leading to it can begin in childhood. Ask your local Heart Association how you can reduce your risk. And give to the Heart Fund.

the 5th and 6th grade conference champions at the meeting. The OLG Bears finished the season with a 12-1 mark.

Semi-Pro tournament ends this weekend

The St. Rose de Lima 10th annual semi-pro basketball tournament ends this weekend in the Sy Rosenthal gymnasium. The tournament features 20 men's teams and four ladies' teams with the proceeds of the event going to St. Rose de Lima school.

Friday the ladies' round-robin tournament will feature a 7 p.m. game between two undefeateds, Alfro Lounge All-Stars and Frank's Garage. At 8:30 p.m., the Picayune All-Stars and the Covington All-Stars will play.

Saturday the men's double elimination tournament will feature seven games. At 9:30 a.m. Coast TV meets the Picayune All-Stars. The Tulane All-Stars and the Franklinton All-Stars play at 11 a.m., and the St. Bernard All-Stars and the Biloxi All-Stars take the court at 12:30. At 1:45 p.m., New Orleans Gumbo will test the local Over the Hill Gang.

The ladies will conclude their round-robin tournament with the Alfro Lounge playing the Covington All-Stars at 3 p.m. and the Picayune All-Stars playing Frank's Garage at 4:15 p.m.

At 5:45 p.m. the winner of the Coast TV-Picayune game will play the Franklinton-Tulane survivor. At 7 p.m. the St. Bernard-Biloxi winner meets the winner of the Gumbo-Over the Hill Gang clash.

Then in the main event of the night, the two undefeated men's teams, New Orleans' Something Special and the ILA Bruins, will play at 8:30 for a berth in the tournament finals.

The remaining four men's teams will then advance to Sunday's semi-finals and finals with the starting time set for 9:30 a.m.

Windbreakers will be given to the top four teams in the tournament. Plaques will be awarded to each all-tournament selection in both the men's and women's divisions. In addition, awards will be given for the most valuable player, best sportsmanship, and leading scorer in both divisions.

Admission is 50 cents for children and $1 for adults.

Ole Miss quarterbacks evaluated by coach

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — Looking back on great Ole Miss football lineups of the past, they were led without exception by outstanding quarterbacks.

The Rebel story at this keynoting berth lists Farley "Fish" Salmon (8-1) in 1948, Jimmy "King" Lear in 1952 (6-2), Eagle Day in 1954 (9-1) and 1955 (9-1), Ray Brown in 1957 (8-1-1), Bobby Franklin in 1958 (8-2), Jake Gibbs in 1959 (9-1) and 1960 (9-0-1), Glynn Griffith in 1961 (9-1) and 1962 (9-0), Perry Lee Dunn and Jim Weatherly in 1963 (7-0-2), and Archie Manning in 1969 (7-3) and 1970 (7-3).

So how are present-day Rebel quarterbacks faring?

The answer, ringing loud and clear from backfield coach Charlie McCullers, is "quite well," thank you.

The candidates in no certain order are sophomore Tim Ellis of Louisville, Junior Stan Bounds of Valdosta, Ga., and sophomore George Plasketes of North Riverside, Ill., David Coates of Bridgeport, Ala., and Jeff Davis of Glensco, Ala.

By name, Jeff Davis would be a natural. Up from last season's frosh brigade, he is the youngest member of the corps. But don't count him out for that reason. For currently, Davis ranks on a par with all other members of the group.

In spring training since Feb. 26, the Rebels have put in seven practices to date. Even so, McCullers said that "Thus far, no one member of the group has stepped forward to assume command. All of these youngsters have talent," he added. "It's a very competitive situation."

"In today's college football," McCullers continued, "the era of the vanilla runner or passer at quarterback is over. They have to be able to both throw and run."

"Our chief concern in the installation of the veer attack is proficiency at running the option. That's been our major goal in early spring drills. "The player who comes out on top will be the one who is fundamentally sound, who has a natural instinct at quarterback, and who can best handle the passing game," McCullers said.

"Thus far we've not done anything fancy — just plain, old fundamentals. And this includes passing. We've not done enough of that for an accurate appraisal."

"The one thing I am certain of," he concluded, "is that all of these young men are talented. Good things are happening with all of them. And I believe in the near future that one or more of them will emerge to take charge at quarterback."

Though he's one of four sophomores bidding for the job, Ellis probably is the most experienced member of the crew. He took over in second-quarter action against Tennessee last November, and played every down thereafter against the Vols and Mississippi State, and all save one play against Tulane.

He completed 28 of 56 passes for 427 yards and five of the six touchdowns registered by air. He averaged 166 yards a game in total offense, scoring two touchdowns in the 26-10 whipping of Tulane at season's end.

Bounds, an All-American for Valdosta's state champions in 1971, guided the 1972 Rebel frosh to a perfect 5-0-0 record. However, a knee injury he received in an alumni spring game at Valdosta did not respond to surgery and rest, and additional surgery was performed after the conclusion of 1973 campaigning. He sat out all of 1974 season.

Plasketes, unusually strong, was a spring game standout into 1974 football but drew a redshirt tour. Both he and Bounds were rated authentic blue chippers in high school. Coats shared frosh team quarterbacking with Plasketes in 1973. The Rebels in '74 did not sponsor a freshman or junior varsity team.

Ellis is the tallest aspirant at 6-3 and 195 pounds. And if it means anything, he wore the celebrated Manning's old jersey number, 18, in his debut against Tennessee last November.

Plasketes is the biggest at 6-2, 205 pounds. Bounds is a 6-1, 184-pounder. Coates and Davis are both 6 feet tall and 180 pounds.

Strickland dumps Rocks in opener, 6-4

The opener

Harry Strickland on the mound spoiled the 1975 Rocks' debut by pitching and hitting Harrison Central to a 6-4 win at St. Stanislaus' home park.

by David Pierson
Harry Strickland went four-for-four at the plate and kept the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws in check most of the way as he pitched Harrison Central to a 6-4 win Saturday that spoiled the Rocks' baseball opener.

Strickland, who collected two triples, a double, and a single in four at bats, began his one-man assault on the Rocks with a first inning triple, and he scored when left fielder Monty Elchos misjudged a sacrifice fly ball. The Red Rebels added another run in the first on another outfielder miscue, but then the game settled down into a pitcher's duel for the middle innings.

Trailing 4-0 at the bottom of the fifth, the Rocks scored their first run of the game and of the season when Ted Elchos walked, advanced to third on two infield outs and scored when Monty Elchos beat out an infield single.

Harrison Central added two runs in the seventh with singles by Tommy Wells, Harry Strickland, and Joe Ford. The two runs proved to be the difference in the game.

League holds tryouts

The Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth League will hold a meeting 7:30 p.m. tonight at the home of Jerry Townsend, at the corner of Sears and 5th Street in Waveland. All coaches and managers are asked to attend.

With one out in the bottom of the seventh and down 6-1, the Rocks started their comeback with Mike Graeber reaching first on an infield error. Mike Price responded with a single that scored Graeber, and Monty Elchos cut the lead to 6-3 by singling to left-center, scoring Price.

Tim Hunter kept the rally alive by lacing a two-out single that scored Monty Elchos. But the rally died when Donny Carr grounded sharply to the second baseman.

Both Strickland of Harrison Central and Dan Ford of St. Stanislaus went the distance on the mound. Strickland chalked up four strikeouts and issued three free passes, and Ford fanned six and walked two.

In a five-inning B-team game, St. Stanislaus and Harrison Central tied 4-4. The Rocks scored three times in the fourth to tie the game after trailing 4-1. The game ended with Rock player Mark McCarthy being thrown out trying to steal home with two out in the bottom of the last inning.

Bay High wins opener, 2-1

After one rain postponement and one cancellation, the Bay High Tigers finally opened the tennis season with a 2-1 win over D'Iberville Monday. Noella Williams, Bay High's

Cancer Crusade sponsors tourney

The Harrison County Cancer Crusade will host a 64 draw tennis tournament April 18-20 at the Broadwater Beach and Biloxi Hilton hotels.

All businesses and private individuals are invited to play or sponsor a team. Entry fee will be $100 with prizes and trophies awarded to the winners and runners-up.

The tournament will feature several division brackets: men, women, mixed doubles, youth and juniors, and promises to attract the top talent on the Coast.

The two hotels are donating their facilities to the Cancer Crusade, and all money collected will go directly to the Cancer Crusade.

The three-day affair will begin with a tennis exhibition at 6 p.m. April 18 at the Biloxi Hilton. Tournament play will begin the following morning with the finals scheduled for a Sunday afternoon.

Application and information can be obtained by contacting Charles A. Ponder at the First Mississippi National Bank in Biloxi.

singles girls player, led the charge by downing Kym Walsh 6-2, 6-3.

In girls' doubles play, Sharon Kidd and Chris Stieffell capitalized on D'Iberville's reluctance to charge the nets and easily disposed of Dorinda Payard and Lynn Ellis 6-2, 6-3.

In the only other A-team match of the day, Cindy Fountain and Wayne Benjamin outlasted Bay High's mixed doubles team, Tim Favre and Kim Scott, 7-9, 6-4, 6-4 to give D'Iberville its lone win of the afternoon. In that match, the Favre-Scott team had all but wrapped up a Bay High sweep when they jumped off to a 4-2 lead in the second set after winning the first set. But the D'Iberville netters rallied to win the next four games and then moved on to win the deciding set.

Bay High now braces itself for a real test with back-to-back encounters against Biloxi and Gulfport East. The Biloxi match is scheduled for Friday at 3 p.m. at Biloxi, and the Gulfport East meeting is slated for Tuesday afternoon in Gulfport.

Pass tourney scheduled

The Pass Christian athletic department will sponsor independent basketball tournaments for men and women March 19-22.

All games will be played in the evening with trophies awarded to the winning teams in the men's and women's divisions. An all-tournament team will be selected.

The team entry fee is $25. Those interested in additional information should contact Pass High Coach Dale Moran at either 452-2755 or 452-2016.

Hospital sponsors Career Day

High school students interested in a medical career are invited to attend the Mississippi Baptist Hospital's "Career Day" in Jackson March 25. Hospital administrator Paul J. Pryor, said that students will be able to tour the hospital and talk with department directors about various hospital-related careers.

"This event has been well-attended in past years," said Pryor, "because it affords a student an excellent opportunity to learn more about the career the student plans to prepare for in college."

Students can also talk with students in the various courses of study, including nursing, radiology, medical technology, and respiratory therapy under way at the hospital.

The publication has wonderful reading, stories on fishing and all outdoor activities and is highly informative.

Glad to report that Lloyd Ladner is doing O.K. after an eye operation. Lloyd has been in the seafood business for many years. One of the best in this line.

Pete Richardson better known as "Peter Gunn" says he is waiting to go fishing as soon as he can get his boat out of the sand bar.

Harold Favre said he doesn't have time to fish. Too busy with his wife making stuffed crabs. Having trouble getting crab meat right now, he said.

Hard crabs are running on the small side. Speaking of hard crabs, Lloyd Ladner, who had the first crab traps, informed us that crabbing time is best when the school closes. Also when there is plenty rain, the crabs go to deeper water and are caught mostly in crab traps.

He ought to know. Has handled thousands of them. When there are plenty of hard crabs, there are soft crabs. That is how crabs grow, by shedding.

Ulysses Oliver does carpenter work and when not working does all kinds of fishing and hunts when the seasons are open. Done both all his life. He is one of the best at catching fish and killing game.

Sarge Garcia is waiting to go crabbing. No use going when they are small. You are right, Sarge.

Brother Perri is another good crabber. Says the ones being caught now are only good for making gumbo, but then, there's nothing wrong with gumbo.

Tooby Necaise is finishing a mullet net, getting ready to get his share of mullets. He is one of the best with a mullet net. Most folks like mullets with french bread, he said.

Don't forget to attend the St. Patrick's Day Parade next Saturday. Plans are being made for a big parade and plenty fun. It will be held in Waveland.

Henry Lang has been scouting for soft crabs. Said they are a few small ones being caught. March and April are the best months for getting them. Have a little more patience. They'll be coming.

John Scafide, Sr. and Jr. made a trip to the marsh for salt water fish. Didn't do too good, John said.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—Milburne Johnson, who is employed at Diamondhead, is like most sportsmen when it comes to fishing. He especially likes floundering and says that the Gulf Coast is mighty hard to beat when it comes to outdoor sports.

Christ Episcopal holds science fair

Winners of the Christ Episcopal Day School science fair were announced Saturday morning at an open house for parents at the school.

The fourth grade winners were: first—Annabelle Lipscomb, effect of light on the germination of seeds; second—Brad McDonald, oxygen requirements of a lighted candle; and third—Steve Shelton, a telegraph.

The fifth grade winners were: first—Donald Diboll, electro magnetic crane; second—Hugh Vegas, centrifugal force; third—Sam Furr, what makes the wind blow; and Priscilla Snow, inertia; honorable mention—Jackie McComiskey, what a prism does to light, and Ryan Vicknair, colors of light.

The sixth grade winners were: first—John Tate, how petroleum is produced; second—Tony LeGoulon, international Morse Code, and Cynthia Morse, telegraph model; and third—Vernon Niven, nuclear fission.

Sixth grade winners from fifth grade will enter their projects in the District Science Fair in Hattiesburg March 21.

HGH supervisors complete teaching course

Seven supervisors at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis have completed a course in teaching on the job offered by the University of Mississippi School of Health Related Professions and the Mississippi Hospital Association.

Participants in the clinical instructor training program, conducted Feb. 24-25 at the hospital, learned ways to upgrade personnel skills in a health care setting.

Ms. Emelia Wellmann, former associate director of nursing service at University Hospital in Jackson, led the program. She taught the supervisors, all in mid-management positions, how to teach more workers more thoroughly in less time.

Mississippi Regional Medical Program gives partial support to the program.

Bay St. Louis participants who received clinical instructor certificates are Maxine De Rocha, Irma Day, Yvonne William, Theo Margaret Schindler, Erskine Skelton, Joseph L. Williams, and Curtis Hegwood.

PTO plans drug abuse program

The Waveland Elementary School Parent Teacher Organization will have Eddie Hodges of the Mississippi Coast Drug Abuse Center as guest speaker at the groups meeting Thursday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m.

A change in the meeting time was necessary to coincide with the speaker's schedule. The April meeting of the PTO will be held at the regular time.

Tall tales sought in Gladding contest

The angler who spins the best fishing tale in the 1975 Gladding Fishing Tall Tales contest will win a round-trip excursion to Ireland via Aer Lingus and a week's stay at the Waterville Lake Hotel in Kerry.

The contest is sponsored by the trustees of the Gladding International Sport Fishing Museum, South Otselee, N.Y., to emphasize the role of fishing in national culture and folklore and to stress the need for increased sportfishing conservation efforts.

The lucky angler will have the company of one of America's top outdoor writers, winner of a separate tall tales contest. He'll also win a Gladding-South Bend fly rod, gear fly reel, a Gladding "Fisher 26" inflatable motorboat, Gladding Aqua-Search fish-depth finder, and an assortment of Glen L. Evans lures and flies.

The runner-up will receive a Gladding-South Bend Aqua-

Search 1000 Portable Fish-Depth Finder. The third, fourth, and fifth prizes are Gladding-South Bend Classic 930 Spinning Reels. All contestants will receive Gladding Fishing Tall Tales Club Membership Cards.

No formal entry blanks. But be sure your entry is legible and contains your name, address and telephone number in case you're a winner. Professional outdoor writers must indicate their status because they'll be entering a separate contest and will be automatically disqualified if they attempt to enter the regular contest. All entries become the property of the trustees and may be used for museum and conservation promotions.

Last year's winners, Darlee K. Newhoff, a Waterloo, Iowa meat packer, and Joseph Stephens, Waterbury, Conn. American outdoor writer, fished for salmon in an IceLandic river. Send entries to: Gladding Fishing Tall Tales Contest, P.O. Box 586, Back Bay Annex, Boston, Mass. 02117. Contest deadline is June 1.

Pass Auxiliary to assist with heart checks

The Pass Christian Post 5931 Ladies Auxiliary will again assist the Heart Association this year with blood pressure checks to be conducted at the Pass Christian Industries on March 7th.

On March 8, the ladies will cooperate with the Garden Club of Pass Christian for their annual "Operation Clean-Up" program. The VFW ladies will serve refreshments in War Memorial Park following the clean-up. The auxiliary ladies will furnish the cup-cakes and the Chamber of Commerce will furnish the soft drinks to the workers.

On March 9 the auxiliary will conduct its weekly benefit games.

By knowing and recognizing the early warning signs of heart attack, you could help save a life. It could be your own. Ask your local heart Association.

The Senior Citizens party will be held in the Post Home, 401 Scenic Dr. Pass Christian, March 10. The party will be held at 1:30 p.m.

The regular meeting of the auxiliary, will be held March 13 at 7 p.m. followed by a special cancer film.

On March 15 the post will hold their monthly dance. Music will be by Johnny Herron and band.
